The chart below shows what happens in the story “Swan Song.” Complete the chart with details from the story in the order in which they happen.

WHAT HAPPENS IN THE STORY

A cow hides a swan from a fox by wearing the swan as a hat.

The fox asked the cow if he saw a swan. The cow replied “no.”

The fox said that the cow had an exquisite hat and the cow said thank you. Then, the swan said “Ho ho, we fooled you.”

The cow runs away from the fox.

This graphic organizer is complete and accurate. The student has provided several events in correct order (“The Fox asked the cow if he saw a swan”; “The Fox said that cow had a exquisite hat”) to show what happens in the story.
In “After the Error,” why was the manager of Jerry’s team upset with him? Use details from the passage to support your answer.

In “After the Error,” the manager of Jerry’s team was upset with him. The manager was upset because he always missed. Another reason is that he stands on the base doing nothing and his other team scored three runs. The last reason is that Jerry made so many errors while playing baseball or outside. All in all, this is how Jerry’s manager was upset with him.

This response is partially accurate. The student has provided text-based details to describe why Jerry’s manager was upset with him (“he stands on the base doing nothing and the other team scored three runs”) but has also included some inaccurate information for why the manager was upset with Jerry (“he always missed”; “Jerry made so many errors”).
How did Jerry act after he made the error? How has his manager’s advice changed the way Jerry has reacted to errors since then? Use details from “After the Error” to support your answer.

Jerry acted sorry for himself after he made the error. He acted sorry for himself because he made lots of errors after and he couldn’t help it. Another reason is that he loves baseball, but he isn’t good at it. His manager’s advice changed the way Jerry has reacted to errors since then. Now he reacted more sorry because it wrote how he made more errors after that. This is how Jerry acted after he made an error.
The swan in "Swan Song" and Jerry in "After the Error" both get into trouble because of how they behave. How does the swan's behavior get her into trouble? How does Jerry's behavior get him into trouble? Explain what can be learned from the results of their behaviors. Use details from both passages to support your answer.

In your answer, be sure to:
- describe how the swan's behavior gets her into trouble
- describe how Jerry's behavior gets him into trouble
- explain what can be learned from the results of their behaviors
- use details from both passages to support your answer

Check your writing for correct spelling, grammar, capitalization, and punctuation.

Swan's behavior gets her into trouble. It gets her into trouble because she kept saying "we fooled you," and the fox got mad and chased after the cow and swan. Another reason is that cow thought she was not mean and smart. She was wrong and called the swan a silly goose. Clearly, this is how swan's behavior gets her into trouble.

Jerry's behavior gets him into trouble. For example, he gets in trouble when his coach glared angrily and shouted at him for not trying his best. Another example is that he made a lot of errors since the error he made in baseball. The last example is that his coach was always tired of him messing up. Clearly, this is how he gets into trouble. Something can be learned from the results of your behavior. Jerry and the swan can learn that you should do as you are told. Another example is that the swan wasn’t smart because she didn’t keep quiet as the cow asked her to do and the fox found out that it was sweary. The last example is that Jerry has to learn how to concentrate while playing baseball because he was not good and he always missed. All in all, this is something that can be learned from the results of their behavior.
This extended response includes a description of how the swan's behavior gets her into trouble ("she kept saying 'We fooled you'"") and how Jerry’s behavior gets him into trouble ("coach glared angrily and shouted at him for not trying his best"). The student has explained the lesson learned from the swan ("she didn’t keep quiet"). The student’s description of the lesson learned from Jerry is more confused and implies he needs to concentrate more because he is a poor player. The response attempts to establish focus and organization. It is mostly readable with little sense of voice. There are very few details from the story and the passage.

Cluster Score = 2

Taken as a whole, the responses fulfill some requirements of the task. The student has addressed basic elements of both passages, but the connections are weak. The responses reflect gaps in the student’s understanding of the behaviors of both the swan and Jerry.
The chart below shows what happens in the story “Swan Song.” Complete the chart with details from the story in the order in which they happen.

WHAT HAPPENS IN THE STORY

A cow hides a swan from a fox by wearing the swan as a hat.

The Fox asked cow has she seen swan. Fox says what a nice hat.

Swan said it is not a hat it is her.

The cow runs away from the fox.

This graphic organizer is complete and accurate. The student has provided several events in correct order (“The Fox asked cow has she seen Swan”; “Swan said it is not a hat it is her”) to show what happens in the story.
The manager was mad because he felt sorry for himself. Another reason is he let the other team make three home runs.

And win.
How did Jerry act after he made the error? How has his manager’s advice changed the way Jerry has reacted to errors since then? Use details from “After the Error” to support your answer.

----Jerry acted mad he threw his Glove. Stamped his feet. His manager’s advice changed because Jerry made a lot of errors.

This response is partially accurate. The student has correctly described Jerry’s behavior after the error (“Acted mad he threw his Glove. Stamped his feet”), but says that Jerry made a lot of errors; therefore, how the manager’s advice changed Jerry’s behavior is also incorrect.
The swan in “Swan Song” and Jerry in “After the Error” both get into trouble because of how they behave. How does the swan’s behavior get her into trouble? How does Jerry’s behavior get him into trouble? Explain what can be learned from the results of their behaviors. Use details from both passages to support your answer.

In your answer, be sure to
✓ describe how the swan’s behavior gets her into trouble

Swans behavior gets her into trouble because now the fox is going to chase her when she is not with cow. Jerry’s behavior gets him into trouble because he let the other team hit three home runs. Another reason is he always make errors.
A Lesson is when your in danger tell someone another reason is maybe they have an idea. Another lesson is concentrate on what your doing.

This extended response includes a vague description of how the swan’s behavior gets her into trouble (“now the Fox is going to chase her when she is not with cow”) and how Jerry’s behavior gets him into trouble (“he let the other team hit three home runs”). The student has described the lesson learned from the swan (“when your in danger tell someone”) and Jerry (“concentrate on what your doing”). The response attempts to establish focus and organization. It is mostly readable with little sense of voice. There are very few details from the story and the passage.

Cluster Score = 2

Taken as a whole, the responses fulfill some requirements of the task. The student has addressed basic elements of both passages, but the connections are weak. The responses reflect gaps and errors in the student’s understanding of the behaviors of both the swan and Jerry.

How did Jerry act after he made the error? How has his manager’s advice changed the way Jerry has reacted to errors since then? Use details from “After the Error” to support your answer.

Jerry act very sad because he can not hit the baseball hard, and make a home run.

This response is inaccurate. The response indicates that Jerry is very sad because he cannot hit the baseball, which is inaccurate. In addition, there is no mention of his manager’s advice or how the advice changed Jerry’s behavior.
The swan in “Swan Song” and Jerry in “After the Error” both get into trouble because of how they behave. How does the swan’s behavior get her into trouble? How does Jerry’s behavior get him into trouble? Explain what can be learned from the results of their behaviors. Use details from both passages to support your answer.

In your answer, be sure to
- describe how the swan’s behavior gets her into trouble
- describe how Jerry’s behavior gets him into trouble
- explain what can be learned from the results of their behaviors
- use details from both passages to support your answer

Check your writing for correct spelling, grammar, capitalization, and punctuation.

Jerry and the Swan Both got in trouble because the swan said you trick your and Jerry got in trouble because listen to his coach.

This extended response includes minimal details from the passages and does not explain how the behavior of the swan and Jerry gets them into trouble or explain the lessons learned from their behavior. The response demonstrates little focus, organization, or development of ideas. It has no sense of voice and uses minimal vocabulary. There are very few details from the story and the passage.

Cluster Score = 1

Taken as a whole, the responses fulfill few requirements of the task. The responses indicate that the student understood only sections of the story and the passage. The responses lack details and make very few relevant connections. However, there is still enough correct information to give it a cluster score of 1 point.
