Overview

In 1988, the State Education Department established a policy enabling students to use a program of selected activities in an occupational education student leadership development organization to fulfill the ½-unit requirement for Social Studies IV: Participation in Government. This guide outlines the procedures by which credit is granted.

To make use of this option, a student must:

1. Be a member of one of the FFA
2. Plan a program of activities with the assistance and approval of the chapter adviser
3. Perform the duties and responsibilities of the office for which they are elected
4. Serve on at least one standing committee
5. Perform a minimum of 15 hours of community service
6. Prepare a student plan, document progress throughout the student plan and evaluate it upon its conclusion (prior to course completion)

A Student Plan which includes activities in Leadership, Political Process and Community Service must be prepared jointly by the student and the chapter adviser.

1. A total of 20 activities must be completed.
2. Weekly evaluation and monitoring will reveal whether the student is completing the activities in a timely and satisfactory manner.
3. The student, their parent/guardian and the adviser should sign a contract, which spells out the student’s commitment to completing all of the activities specified in the Student Plan.
4. A log documenting participation in appropriate activities must be submitted to, and approved by, the chapter adviser.
Goals, Objectives & Benefits

Student Log

Instructions: Begin documenting your activities in your SAE Journal. Place a special category heading to differentiate these entries from your work experiences, job shadow experiences or research work.

Sample Log Entry

Category: Political Process
Activity: Shadow the mayor for a day to learn more about the city’s political process.
Notes:
September 15 – called mayor’s office to see if it would be possible to spend the day with her. I was asked to put the request in writing.

September 18 – wrote letter to the mayor explaining the Participation in Government requirement and asking to shadow her (copy attached).

September 25 – received letter from the mayor. October 6 at 9:00 a.m. is the day.

October 2 – met with adviser to plan for my shadowing day.

October 5 – called the mayor’s office to confirm date.

October 6 – arrived at 9:00 a.m. Sat with her while she went over the day’s schedule with her secretary, discussed correspondence that needed to be taken care of, and since it was Friday discussed weekend events that the mayor would participate in. At 10:30 a.m., we went to the opening of a small shopping mall. The mayor welcomed the stores to the city and then talked with some of the people who had assembled. At 11:30 a.m., we went to a luncheon meeting of the Recycling Committee. The mayor made a brief speech. Then back to her office where she returned phone calls. At 1:30 p.m., she had an appointment with the chair of the Democratic Committee to discuss some things, including the November election. An emergency meeting with the chief of police was arranged at 3:00 p.m. to clear up some problems with the union. I left at 3:30 p.m. to go to my after-school job.

What I Learned:
Public officials lead very busy lives and must always be pleasant in dealing with the public, even when the people they are dealing with are not. The mayor has to know about so many things to make decisions. She also has to be careful what she says because she’ll have to live with that later. I was glad I wore my blazer because I felt very professional. The mayor was interested in the leadership organizations. I told her a lot about what we do, and I think she would be willing to help us in some way if we needed her.

October 9 – wrote a thank-you note to the mayor. I told her we would be willing to speak to community groups about the organization and offered our help on a city project if she ever needed it (copy attached).
Community Service Activity Sheet

Instructions: Complete a copy of this sheet for each FFA sponsored community service activity that you complete. Should you participate in community service activities for another organization, they MAY be used as extra credit for the marking period in which they occur. To obtain extra credit, you must attach a post-it note marking it in your portfolio as a request for extra credit.
