

RECEIVE RECOGNITION FOR YOUR SCHOOL'S EFFORTS AT BEING GREEN

Apply for the US Department of Education Green Ribbon Schools (ED-GRS) award honoring public and nonpublic early childhood, elementary, middle and high schools, school districts and institutions of higher education (depending on State program participation) that demonstrate high achievement in all three of the following areas:

- ❖ Reducing environmental impact and costs
- ❖ Improving health and wellness of schools, students and staff
- ❖ Providing effective environmental and sustainability education

Awardees receive state and national recognition, and an invitation to the national ceremony in Washington, DC. The awards are announced in the spring and the national award ceremony occurs during the fall.

PreK-12 public and nonpublic schools must apply to the New York State Education Department to be nominated for the award. Through the application process members from various sectors of the school community collaborate to improve their efforts toward sustainability. Applying for the award provides an opportunity to review strategies for improved energy efficiency, water quality, waste reduction, alternative transportation, integrated environmental health practices, and curriculum for instruction that effectively incorporates STEM, civic skills, and green career pathways.
