Career & Technical Education

BOCES classes, offered primarily on a half-day basis, prepare high school students attending component districts for skilled workforce careers. Most career and technical education programs require two years to complete. Also reported are data reflecting "New Vision" and other one-year programs. Data source for enrollment: BOCES Survey.

Alternative Education

BOCES operates full-day and/or half-day programs for general-education students who have been identified as having special needs not being met in school district programs. Programs may include academics, vocational skills, work-study, specialized activities or a combination of these. The BOCES Report Card includes alternative education program enrollment and outcome data for students in grades 5 through 8, as well as students in programs leading to high school diplomas or high school equivalency diplomas (GEDs). Data source: 2001 BOCES Survey

Alternative Education Outcomes

The objective of the alternative education program is to retain students until they graduate or return to a regular school setting. Students counted as leaving programs may have done so for a variety of reasons including relocation, medical problems, childcare, incarceration or entering other education programs. Data source: 2001 BOCES Survey

Adult Career Education - BOCES sponsors both adult career education programs and adult basic education courses.

1999-2000 Adult Career Education Placement Results - Adult career education programs enhance workplace skills and enable participants to gain employment or career advancement. The reauthorization of the Carl D. Perkins Act 111 of 1998 changed reporting requirements. In 1999-00, 138 adults were enrolled, of which 105 completed one of these programs.

1999-2000 Placement Results

Success Rate

The Success Rate is calculated by adding the adults employed in a training-related field, employed in another field, and pursuing further education and dividing by the number of completers minus the status of unknown/others. The success rate for this BOCES was 98.8%.

Adult Basic Education

Enrollment in adult basic education programs for 2000-2001 was 378.

Educational Gain

Students are counted as having educational gain if they show improvement in their standardized test scores between enrollment and re-testing after approximately 100 hours of instruction. Educational gain is the primary goal for students in adult beginning/ intermediate programs, lower level adult secondary programs, and in English for speakers of other languages programs. Changes in the reporting format for 2000-2001 may affect the comparison of Adult Secondary enrollment and gain with prior years.

Educational Program	Enrollment			Educational Gain
	1998-1999	1999-2000	2000-2001	1998-1999	1999-2000	2000-2001
Adult Beginning/ Intermediate	71	78	185	71	34	69
Adult Secondary (Low)	91	154	74			32

Other Outcomes (2000-2001)

Other outcomes of 2000-2001 adult basic education programs include obtaining and retaining employment, entering post-secondary education or training, and removal from or reduction in public assistance. Students in higher level adult secondary education programs are considered to have a primary goal of obtaining a secondary or high school equivalency diploma.

Other Outcome	Participants with Goal or Status	Participants Achieving Goal	Percentage Achieving Outcome
Entered employment	7	4	57.1%
Retained employment	0	0	0.0%
Obtained a secondary or high school equivalency diploma	85	46	54.1%
Entered post-secondary education or training	5	5	100.0%
Removal from or reduction in public assistance	0	0	0.0%

These outcome measures are consistent with the National Reporting System (NRS) for adult education. The NRS calculates the percentage of achievement for each outcome by dividing the number of students achieving the outcome by the number who at intake indicate that outcome is a primary or secondary goal. The exception to this is "removal from public assistance" in which all public assistance recipients are considered to have that outcome as a goal.

Special Education

Special Education programs offered by BOCES provide school districts with additional options for serving students with disabilities.

Services Provided by BOCES

Data regarding the services and settings provided were collected on the 2000-2001 PD4A form. Data are as of December 1, 2000, representing the 2000-2001 school year. This BOCES served 887 school-age students with disabilities, representing 30.5% of all school-age students with disabilities residing in the component districts of this BOCES. Statewide, 15.0% of school-age students with disabilities were served by a BOCES. A continuum of special education services ranging from resource rooms and consultant teachers to special classes is available to students.

Special Education Enrollment and Tuition

When placing students, districts select among classrooms with different student/staff ratios consistent with each student's Individualized Education Program (IEP). The following are three of the alternatives:

- ☐ 12 students per teacher plus one paraprofessional (12:1:1)
- ☐ 6 students per teacher plus one paraprofessional (6:1:1)
- ☐ 12 students per teacher plus four paraprofessionals (12:1+1:3)

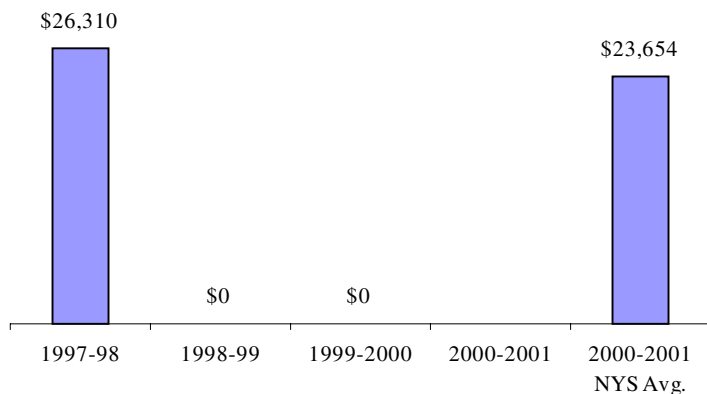

If BOCES provides other options of student/staff ratios, an addendum of enrollment and tuition information will be attached to this report.

Tuition rates exclude the costs of related services, preschool and summer school programs. BOCES with multiple tuition rates for a program have calculated an average rate. Data source for enrollment and tuition: 602 Report.

Students with Disabilities Exiting BOCES Special Education Programs

High school students leave BOCES special education programs when they earn a credential, reach the maximum age (21) for public schooling or drop out. The high school diploma rate (a+b+c/f) for this BOCES is 5.0%. The Statewide high school diploma rate for all BOCES is 46.8%. Source: 2000-2001 PD5A Report

State Testing Program

Elementary-level and middle-level assessments measure student performance by level in grades 4 and 8 English Language Arts (ELA) and mathematics. These data are results for students enrolled in BOCES programs.

Level 4	These students exceed the standards and are moving toward high performance on the Regents examination.
Level 3	These students meet the standards and, with continued steady growth, should pass the Regents examination.
Level 2	These students need extra help to meet the standards and pass the Regents examination.
Level 1	These students have serious academic deficiencies.

Note: ALT designates severely disabled students eligible for the New York State Alternate Assessment; ELL designates English language learners eligible for an alternative assessment of proficiency in reading English; and No Valid Score designates students who did not receive a valid test score because of absence from all or part of the test or because the test was administered under nonstandard conditions. To protect student confidentiality, the pound character (#) appears when fewer than five students in a group are tested.

School Library Services

School Library Systems, a state-aided program sponsored by each BOCES, provide vital library and information resources to public and nonpublic schools throughout the State. Each system operates under an approved plan of service and provides leadership and training through professional development activities; facilitates resource-sharing among its member school libraries; promotes advances in technology for information storage and retrieval; focuses on cooperative collection development of school library materials; addresses the information needs of special client groups and participates in regional library issues with public, academic and special libraries. Students, teachers and administrators in each BOCES area benefit from the activities of the program. The charts below compare 1997, 1999 and 2000 data elements for the School Library System.

State Testing Program for All Component Districts

The State testing program provides data to the State Education Department and local school districts for use in planning, managing, and evaluating educational programs. The 4th and 8th grade English language arts (ELA) and mathematics tests measure student performance on the State standards for the elementary and middle grades, while the Regents examinations are key indicators of student progress in the secondary grades. These data are calculated by aggregating district-level results for general education students and pupils with disabilities for all component districts.

Regents Examinations

In 1996, the Regents acted to raise learning standards by requiring future students to demonstrate competence for graduation using Regents examinations, rather than the lower-level Regents competency tests (RCTs). All general-education students who entered ninth grade in the fall of 1996 were required to score 65 or higher (55 if approved by the local school board) on the Regents comprehensive examination in English to earn a local diploma. Those general-education students who entered ninth grade in the fall of 1997 are required to score 65 or higher (55 if approved by the local school board) on the Regents comprehensive examination in English and Regents examination in mathematics. The number of Regents examinations required for graduation has increased with each succeeding freshman class. Added requirements for the freshman class of 1998 were the global history and US history & government Regents. Even more rigorous graduation requirements will be implemented in 2002.

Cohort data were collected to assess the progress that students who were enrolled in grade 9 for the first time in September 1997 or 1998 made toward meeting new graduation requirements in English and mathematics and for the 1998 Cohort, global history and US history and government. The following charts show the percentage of cohort members in component districts who scored 55-100 on each Regents examination. The data include students with disabilities.

Displayed below are the number of graduates in component districts who received local diplomas and Regents diplomas during the 1996-1997 through 2000-2001 school years. In 2000-2001, 50.2% of the component high school graduates in this BOCES region earned a Regents diploma versus 60.4% of the graduates in component districts statewide.
