Dear Parents/Guardians,

NYSSB has been very busy preparing for the arrival of WiFi by working with our local BOCES to train our teachers on new technology and identifying students who would benefit from technology. Tablets and other mobile devices are entering classrooms all across the United States at an increasingly rapid rate. iPads seem to be the fantastic little device leading this invasion. We have purchased iPads and will be introducing them to designated classrooms in the fall. iPads provide incredible benefits to both educators and students. We are very excited to offer this opportunity to our students.

June of each year a group of Alumni return to our school for a long weekend reunion. When they return, they are always interested in connecting with our current students. One topic that our Alumni spoke with our students about is technology. Specifically, they discussed technology that was designed to help people who are blind or have a visual impairment. Did you know there are apps that help people identify the color of their clothes? Did you know that Facebook now has an app to identify people in photos? The possibilities are endless with technology!

As we approach the end of another school year, I would like to take the opportunity to thank you for your help, support and interest this year. We have had another busy and successful school year and you, as partners in the education of your children, deserve much of that credit. Families play an important role in a child's education.

Summer is now upon us and I am sure that each of you has some plans to enjoy the weather and the extra time. I hope that you will enjoy some great family time and our students will return safely and refreshed. Enjoy!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PBIS

April 2016: Character trait of the month—Persuasiveness Winners: John Carroll, Linda Johnston, Sarah Liss, Annie Stanley

John Carroll (Classroom Teacher): John motivates and persuades students to participate and succeed in tasks that the students do not prefer. He also builds trust in the teacher-student relationship.

Linda Johnston (Special Education Assistant): Linda has been instrumental in positively influencing students and staff's attitude toward the PAES lab. She ensures that all students have proper accommodations and "meets students where they are at" in PAES lab.

Sarah Liss (Child Care Aide 1): Sarah is always pushing and never giving up on anything. She is extra encouraging and positive even in difficult situations.

Annie Stanley (Lauderer): Annie is always accommodating to the needs of the students and washing up clothing items before the end of the day when needed.

May 2016: Character trait of the month-Wisdom. Winners: Ray Follett, Sherry Smart, Dan Driscoll and Lancy Frongetta.

Ray Follett (Special Education Assistant): Ray has been a staple at NYSSB for over 35 years. He always offers wisdom to our students. Students look to Ray for advice and knowledge.

Sherry Smart (Child Care Aide 1): She is a genuine friend. She gives advice that is always truthful and sincere. Sherry enlightens her coworkers with her endless knowledge and experience. She gives great advice when needed and helps out with situations and students.

Dan Driscoll (Child Care Aide 1): Dan is able to always answer questions about the kids and work. He is very knowledgeable about NYSSB.

Lancy Frongetta (Secretary 1): Lancy is always available to help staff and students throughout each day. She doesn't just answer questions and the phones but uses much wisdom thinking before she gives out information that may break confidentiality of staff and students. She does this when dealing with people inside and outside of our school. During MDT meetings or serving on a committee, Lancy constantly uses this wisdom when compiling her notes and expressing her opinions. Most importantly, Lancy gives us an example every day of wisdom by the way she treats everyone with respect.

EDUCATIONAL NEWS

Room 101 is a secondary classroom that works on transition/life skills to prepare for adult life. The classroom team consists of Tabitha Fidanza, Special Education Teacher, Dutch Smith and Navada Nichols both Special Education Assistants.

In this classroom, communication, choice making and independence are a large focus. The students work on different ways of appropriately letting others know what he/she likes and what he/she do not like. Choice making is a very important skill that students work on, because it helps them lead a more fulfilling life by making the students happier and more independent. Students work on making choices during meal times, Pre-vocational workshop, leisure times and many more.

The classroom utilizes a variety of communication and literacy tools. Some of the tools include tactile symbols, large print, communication switches and eye-gaze boards. Each morning, the students discuss daily schedule using these tools. This is an important part of the day, because it allows students to feel comfortable and confident about the day ahead of them.

Students also engage in transition activities that include making their own lunches one day per week, packaging and delivering the school newsletter, collecting paper to be recycled and carrying bags of recycling to the loading dock.

Room 101 is student-centered. Students are given the opportunity to participate in jobs/chores that they show an interest in. Some students really enjoy carrying papers to the loading dock, while others prefer to work sitting down.

Lastly, students and staff like to have a little fun in the classroom. Some of the classroom's favorite activities this year were hatching chicks, cooking activities, science experiments and group speech sessions that are better known as "speech parties." In the past, the classroom have hatched butterfly eggs and explored live crayfish and earthworms in science.

RESIDENTIAL NEWS

Bocce Ball Champions

To many, the month of March means “March Madness”. To students and staff at NYSSB it means the same but instead of the NCAA Basketball Championships it means the NYSSB Bocce Ball Championships. Both team and individual titles are at stake and competition is fierce!

The team championship this year was won by Team #3 (Dan O., Austin A., Zac S., Mariah O.). Team #3 beat Team #4 (Justin R., Cadence W., Brianna M., Joseph S.) in a best “2 out of 3 series”, losing the very first game 17-19, but coming back to win the next two by scores of 24-23 and 20-12. Congratulations to all participants and a very special recognition to the Team Champions.

On the other side of the coin April’s Bocce Ball Tournament was set up as an individual, double elimination format to determine a Champion along with a 2nd, 3rd, and 4th place finisher. At stake.....? The top four place winners to compose our Annual Homecoming Team willing to take on any and all attendees during the NYSSB Homecoming Event which will be held in October 2016.

The individual champion this year was Thom B. as he defeated Austen B. in the finals by a score of 32-26. The consolation final was very competitive with lead scores changing hands numerous times. In the end, Austin A. got revenge from an earlier loss in the tournament to Justin R. and up-ended him 33-30, as both solidified their starting spots on the 2016 Homecoming team with Thom B. and Austen B.. Honorable mention team participants who also performed extremely well in the tournament each collecting two victories include: Savannah M., Mariah O., Dan O., and Cadence W.

HEALTH CENTER NEWS

Dr. Amanda Persaud will be NYSSB's new school physician with the assistance of Tamara Tempfer, Nurse Practitioner. They will begin the new school year 2016-2017 with the summer session in July. Dr. Persaud is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Buffalo. She is an Attending Physician in General Pediatrics at the Women and Children's Hospital of Buffalo and is also the Medical Director of the Special Needs Clinic.
