A. District Overview

i. District strategy and theory of action to improve schools for college and career readiness

The New York City Department of Education's (NYCDOE)'s Chancellor's priorities guide our work to support our lowest achieving schools and ensure that all students graduate ready for college and careers. Our first priority is that we improve student outcomes through expert teaching. College and career readiness depends critically on the interaction between a student and teacher. Teachers must become masterful at developing students into independent and critical thinkers. Our teachers are working to implement curriculum aligned to the Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS) and adjusting their classroom practice to the standards.

The second priority is that the NYCDOE must provide high-quality school choices for all families. Great work between students and teachers happens in the context of effective schools with cultures of achievement. We are committed to ensuring that all families are able to choose from a range of excellent school options for their children.

Strong partnerships with families are essential to student success. Our goal is that college and career readiness for students will become the daily work not just of principals and teachers, but of students themselves and of all of those who care for them. The district works to establish and strengthen partnerships by engaging actively with families as partners in pursuit of common goals. We also work with community-based organizations to support our schools and families.

Finally, we must provide effective school support. School leaders need support to address their schools' operational needs and to help build the instructional skills required to accelerate students' progress toward college and career readiness. Our Cluster and Network organizational structure provides schools with instructional and operational support that are designed to fit each school's specific needs and focus on our citywide priorities.

Part of providing school choice includes phasing-out low-performing schools and offering promising new school options, which the NYCDOE accomplishes through the Turnaround model. In this phase-out/phase-in strategy, the Priority School is phased-out and a new replacement school(s) is phased-in. Interested new leaders submit a new school proposal and are part of a rigorous application process designed to gauge leaders' readiness to meet these challenges, and to evaluate their proposed school models. The phase-out and phase-in schools included in the Turnaround model in this application were approved by the NYCDOE designated Board of Education, the Panel for Educational Policy, in March 2013. The phasing-out and phasing-in schools share resources provided by the School Improvement Grant (SIG) to ensure all students are served regardless of school structure.

Through this process of closing failing schools and replacing them with new, high-quality options, the NYCDOE has opened 656 district and charter schools since 2002, applying strategies that have resulted in historic progress in the public education system. Graduation rates have risen 41 percent since 2005 – and the rate is often 20 percent higher in new schools when compared to those they replace, while serving similar populations of students.

ii. District approach and actions for its lowest-achieving schools

The NYCDOE has a clear approach and set of actions to support the turnaround of our lowest achieving schools which impacts our Priority Schools. Our school improvement process focuses on three areas that result in actions to ensure we have effective principals leading our schools, the support of community partners in our schools, and autonomy for our principals to create successful schools.

First, a great school starts with a great principal. Over the past decade we have learned the powerful role a principal can play as change agent. We use a set of leadership competencies and seek principals for our schools who have demonstrated the qualities of effective leadership. For our Turnaround new schools, we provide a six month New Schools Intensive program that trains and prepares these principals.

Second, we need community partners to help us develop great schools. We have worked with local and national intermediary organizations to help us develop and scale schools. These partners provide critical start-up support, proven instructional models, and help push the thinking of our school leaders. We have also attracted high-performing public charter schools to New York City to bring an even greater breadth of quality options to public school families.

Finally, there is no one recipe for what makes a great school. There are conditions that contribute to an effective school – a mission, leadership, and expert teachers devoted to student success – but there are different ways of organizing a school to create these conditions, especially given the need to serve diverse student populations. We encourage leaders to be innovative and to leverage their expertise to develop creative models by empowering them to make school-level instructional and operational decisions.

iii. Evidence of district readiness for system-wide improvement of Priority Schools

The NYCDOE has created a school improvement and intervention process to build on our current strengths and identify opportunities for system-wide improvement. Evidence includes the NYCDOE's Struggling Schools Review Process, which identifies certain schools for intensive interventions and results in targeted plans for improvement for other schools. We have conducted a thorough analysis of our Priority Schools prepared to implement the Turnaround and Transformation models. We created a cross-functional Priority Schools district work group to examine school data trends, identify the appropriate intervention model for the school, and monitor each Priority School's progress under the selected intervention model.

In 2010, the New York State Education Department (NYSED) raised expectations for the quality of student work and teacher practice with the adoption of the CCLS. The NYCDOE has continued to work on meeting the challenge by introducing Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Teaching and creating our College and Career Readiness benchmarks. In 2011, these reforms led to the development of the first set of Citywide Instructional Expectations and the engagement of our school system in a long-term process of figuring out how to ensure that students at every grade level are on track to graduate from high school ready for college, careers, and other meaningful postsecondary opportunities.

In the fall of 2013, to support the shift in teaching practice required to help our students meet these higher standards, the NYCDOE will implement a new system of teacher evaluation and development. This change is critical because expert teaching is the most powerful tool for helping students reach these higher standards. Our Citywide Instructional Expectations combined with our Quality Review Rubric are intended to guide school communities as they work to create a rigorous and coherent instructional experience for students and educators.

B. Operational Autonomies

i. Operational autonomies for the Priority School

The principles and actions underlying the NYCDOE are leadership, empowerment, and accountability. Beginning in the 2007-08 school year, NYCDOE schools became autonomous, as principals and their teams gained broader discretion over allocating resources, choosing their staff, and creating programming for their students. Schools now have resources through the NYCDOE's Fair Student Funding (FSF) formula, which allocates funding based on student need. Principals chose the type of support that is best for their schools. A more detailed description of the autonomies follows.

Budgeting: School-based budget for the Priority School is based on the FSF formula. The Priority School also receives additional funding through Title I allocations to support its goals as a struggling school. Funding follows each student to the Priority School that he or she attends based on student grade level, with additional dollars based on need (academic intervention, English Language Learners, special education, high school program). The principal has discretion to use FSF and any additional funding the school receives and is held accountable by the Superintendent through a School Comprehensive Educational Plan (SCEP) review process. In addition, the School Leadership Team is the primary vehicle for developing school-based educational policies and ensuring that resources are aligned to implement those policies.

Staffing: The Priority School receives a FSF allocation based on their enrollment, and the school is charged for the cost of teachers out of that allocation. The principal is held accountable for staffing as part of the annual evaluation by the Superintendent. The school leader is given the resources necessary to provide career growth opportunities for the staff. School-based actions include opportunities for additional pay through professional development and extended day instructional programs. The Priority School can also choose to participate in district-level teacher leadership programs that support the retention and development of expert teachers at the school. The Priority School is encouraged to participate in district-run teacher leadership programs to support the retention and development of expert teachers at their school.

The new school is able to hire staff based on its unique mission and vision of the school. The process for hiring in a new or redesigned school includes staff selection by a personnel committee consisting of two United Federation of Teachers (UFT) designees, two Superintendent or Chancellor designees, and the principal or project director. Article 18D of the UFT/NYCDOE contract outlines the process for staffing new or redesigned schools opening to replace Priority Schools. The 18D hiring process for new schools is outlined in the Collective Bargaining Agreement, which states: "If sufficient numbers of displaced staff apply, at least fifty percent of the School's pedagogical positions shall be selected from among the appropriately licensed most senior applicants from the impacted school(s), who meet the School's qualifications;

Program selection: The principal may partner with one of nearly 60 Networks based on common priorities: grade levels, similar student demographics, and/or shared educational philosophies and beliefs. Some Networks focus on instructional models that support particular groups of students, such as high school students who are over-aged and under-credited. Others are organized around project-based learning or leadership development. Networks offer school communities school support options and let them determine which will best serve their students, staff, and their entire community. The school is also supported by Community and High School Superintendents, who communicate regularly with parent associations as well as other parent leaders and supervise district family advocates.

Educational partner selection: Schools have autonomy in selecting education partners that have been formally contracted by the NYCDOE after a rigorous vetting process. The NYCDOE oversees a Request for Proposal process from organizations experienced in working with schools in need of school improvement. Potential partners are required to provide a comprehensive whole school reform design for developing and maintaining effective school functions, while integrating specific plans to improve instruction, assessment, classroom management, and staff professional development. Accountability plans for the partner must be included based on annual evaluations of student progress in the Priority School. If progress is not evident, then the work with the partner is discontinued.

Use of Time During and After School: The Priority School has several opportunities for autonomy in the use of time during and after school. The school has the option to have Supplemental Educational Service (SES) providers support students through extended learning time. Community-based organizations selected by the Priority School also provide students with social-emotional health and counseling services. Schools can utilize a School-Based Option (SBO) to create flexible use of time. The SBO process allows individual schools to modify provisions in the Collective Bargaining Agreement related to class size, rotation of assignments or classes, teacher schedules and/or rotation of paid coverage for the school year. In the SBO process the school community creates a plan for how to effectively implement extended learning time. The principal and UFT chapter leader must agree to the proposed modification which is presented to school union members for vote. Fifty-five percent of the UFT voting members affirm the proposed SBO in order for it to pass. The intent of this type of SBO is to empower the school community on how to best make use of time before, during, and after school.

i. Evidence of formal policies on school autonomy

The NYCDOE provides organizational support to Priority Schools to reduce barriers and provide greater flexibility. The Office of State Portfolio Policy (OSPP) in the Division of Portfolio Planning (DPP) is designed to work with Priority Schools to determine their whole school reform models and support the schools with compliance requirements. School Implementation Managers (SIMs) are provided through SIG to assist Priority Schools with school improvement efforts and compliance requirements. Both teams of staff are held accountable through performance reviews and grant monitoring.

The Priority School receives funding in its budget to use flexibly and an additional funding allocation to support its school improvement activities, documented in a procedure known as a School Allocation Memorandum (SAM). The school's Network operations managers assist with budgeting. The use of these local Title I, 1003(a), and local funds must be aligned by the school with the school's SCEP submitted to NYSED. The Priority and Focus Schools SAM: http://schools.nyc.gov/offices/d\_chanc\_oper/budget/dbor/allocationmemo/fy12\_13/FY13\_PDF/sam70.pdf

Educational partner selection from pre-qualified organizations is accomplished through the Multiple Task Award Contract (MTAC) procedure, which provides a stream-lined process for schools to follow: <http://schools.nyc.gov/Offices/DCP/KeyDocuments/MTACPOS.htm>.

The Priority School has the autonomy to select its required support from a Network. Since spring 2010, NYCDOE schools have received their instructional and operational support from a support team called a Network. Each Network team provides training and coaching for principals and teachers, shares instructional resources, and facilitates school collaboration. The Network team includes several Achievement Coaches, who go directly to schools to help teachers and instructional leaders implement the citywide instructional expectations in order to deliver rigorous instruction in their classrooms. On the operational side, Network team members assist schools with budgets and grants, facilities, compliance, and human resources.

Program selection for Priority Schools is described in the spring 2012-13 Network Directory: <http://schools.nyc.gov/AboutUs/schools/support/default.htm>

The Transition Support Network (TSN) is the Network dedicated to working with phase-out schools under the Turnaround model. The TSN works exclusively with phase-out schools to provide tailored support to staff and students in the school's final years of operation, including targeted support for phase-out schools in the areas of resource management, student support, leadership and instructional support, and school culture/youth development.

C. District Accountability and Support

i. Oversight of district's school turnaround effort and management structure

The specific senior leaders responsible for the district's turnaround efforts are Marc Sternberg, Senior Deputy Chancellor for Strategy and Policy, who oversees the Division of Portfolio Planning (DPP) in collaboration with Shael Suransky, Chief Academic Officer and Senior Deputy Chancellor for the Division of Academics, Performance, and Support (DAPS). These two leaders report to NYCDOE Chancellor Dennis Walcott. Attached is an organizational chart with more detail on the structure of DPP and DAPS, as well as a sample Network structure.

ii. Coordination of district structure for school turnaround efforts

The NYCDOE coordinates turnaround efforts and provides oversight and support for Priority Schools. Schools are directly supported by Networks that they select based on their academic needs: Networks are grouped into Clusters, who report to the Office of School Support (OSS) in DAPS. SIMS report to Clusters by district and provide Priority Schools with direct oversight and support in their turnaround efforts. The Office of Superintendent in DAPS oversees the Superintendent; there are 32 Community Superintendents and 8 High School Superintendents who oversee principals. The Superintendent serves as the principal's supervisor and conducts the school's Quality Review (QR). DPP coordinates the turnaround efforts for the NYCDOE and supports Priority Schools in collaboration with DAPS. The designated turnaround office is the Office of State Portfolio Policy (OSPP) within DPP, which works with Priority Schools to support their whole school reform model selection, implementation, and progress monitoring. External partner organizations working with Priority Schools are evaluated by schools and the Division of Contracts and Purchasing based on performance targets.

The Office of New Schools (ONS) within DPP supports the creation of new schools in the Turnaround model. ONS selects leaders through a rigorous, multi-phase application process which includes evaluation of a written school proposal, multiple in-person leadership exercises, a school visit, and a panel interview. Once approved, leaders attend the New Schools Intensive, a six-month training and preparation program. Proposed new leaders participate in weekly leadership development sessions to learn specific leadership practices and address the operational issues associated with a new school launch. Each leader is assigned a leadership coach who provides feedback on the proposed new leader's educational vision and instructional plan for the school. Coaches also give guidance on how to succeed as the founding principal of a new school. Proposed new leaders are provided access to the city's most effective principals at workshops, school visits and networking events. In addition to vetting and preparing the new school principal candidates, ONS provides post-opening support in concert with Networks and Superintendents. Since 2002, 426 new district schools have been created to offer more options to students and communities; 51 new district schools are planned to open in September 2013.

The NYCDOE uses a wide range of data to identify schools that are struggling. Schools that receive a grade of D, F, or a third consecutive C or worse on their most recent Progress Report, schools that receive a rating of Underdeveloped on their most recent QR, and schools identified as Priority Schools by NYSSED are considered for support or intervention. To identify the kind of action that will be best for a struggling school and its students, the NYCDOE reviews school performance data such as student performance trends over time, demand/enrollment trends, efforts already underway to improve the school, and talent data. We consult with Superintendents and other experienced educators who have worked closely with the school, and gather community feedback on what is working or needs improvement in the school.

At the end of this process, analysis and engagement directs us to a set of schools that quantitative and qualitative indicators show do not have the capacity to significantly improve. These schools are identified for the most serious intervention, phase-out and then replacement by a new school(s). For the other struggling schools, Networks develop action plans to support the needs of struggling schools. These plans identify action steps, benchmarks, and year-end goals aimed at immediately improving student achievement.

The NYCDOE monitors each individual Priority School and its areas of strength and weakness. The SIM and Network that work with the Priority School provide day-to-day support in areas that are targeted for school improvement. System-wide we are working to continue to enhance our capacity to better support schools, with a focus on ensuring that we have high-quality staff that work with and in our Priority Schools.

Following New York State's ESEA waiver approval, the NYCDOE established a Priority Schools work group across central divisions to recommend whole school reform models for the NYCDOE's 122 Priority Schools. The work group reviews school data points and alignment to the three intervention model options: the School Improvement Grant plan, School Innovation Fund plan, or School Comprehensive Education Plan (SCEP) crosswalk.

For our lowest-performing schools, we propose a strategy of phasing out the struggling school and replacing it with a new school. The Priority Schools in this category are then proposed for the Turnaround model. Schools that are not selected for phase-out from our Struggling Schools Review Process will submit a SCEP crosswalk aligned to the U.S. Department of Education's seven turnaround principles. For the schools we consider for the Transformation model, we review a wide range of data points about each Priority School, including Progress Report grades, QR results, and qualitative Cluster feedback on the school's readiness to implement the model requirements. Schools are selected based on the quantitative data and the qualitative data about their levels of readiness to implement the Transformation model.

The NYCDOE has a well-developed planning and feedback process between the district and school leadership. The QR is a key part of this process and was developed to assist schools in raising student achievement. The QR is a two- or three-day school visit by experienced educators. During the review, the external evaluator visits classrooms, interviews school leaders and staff, and uses a rubric to evaluate how well the school is organized to support student achievement. Before a reviewer visits a school, the school leadership completes a self-evaluation based on the QR rubric. Reviewers draw upon this document and school data during interviews with principals, teachers, students, and parents during the school visit. After the site visit, schools receive a QR score and report that is published publicly. This document provides the school community with evidence-based information about the school's development, and serves as a source of feedback for school leadership to improve support for student performance.

In addition to QRs, Progress Reports are a yearly accountability, planning, and feedback tool that assist school leaders, as well as parents, teachers, and school communities, with understanding the school's strengths and weaknesses, emphasizing the development students have made in the past year. Progress Reports grade each school with an A, B, C, D, or F and are made up of four sections: Student Progress, Student Performance, School Environment, and (for high schools only) College and Career Readiness. Scores are based on comparing results from each school to a citywide benchmark and to a peer group of about 40 schools with similar student populations. These peer schools provide an opportunity for a school to understand how other schools are

The NYCDOE selects only leaders who demonstrate, through the new school application process, that they can lead schools designed for student success among the hardest-to-serve populations. For phase-in new schools, Mentoring Excellence is an innovative recruitment and leadership initiative in which highly successful and experienced principals nominate talented

Our theory of action holds that if future school leaders are strategically identified and rigorously cultivated earlier in their careers, NYCDOE schools will develop a leadership pipeline for years to come. This includes both on-the-job opportunities like the Leaders in Education Apprenticeship Program (LEAP), principal internships such as the NYC Leadership Academy Aspiring Principal Program (APP), executive leadership institutes, and mentoring opportunities for experienced school leaders.

To increase the number of candidates who are well-prepared to become principals, we have strengthened and expanded our principal preparation programs. Simultaneously, we have shifted our focus toward identifying talented educators earlier in their careers and nurturing their leadership skills while they remain in teacher leadership roles. Our goal is to develop a strong and sustainable leadership pipeline for schools. The NYCDOE created the Principal Candidate Pool selection process to make clear the expectations for principals in the recruitment process. The process is used to discern all candidates' readiness for the position of principal and ability to impact student achievement.

D. Teacher and Leader Pipeline

i. Recruitment goals and strategies at schools to access high-quality leaders and

The NYCDOE seeks to ensure that every student has the opportunity to learn from a high-quality educator in a school with a strong school leader, particularly in high-poverty and high-minority schools. To accomplish this goal, we develop a pipeline of expert teachers and leaders and provide them with targeted support.

See attached chart.

A third part of the NYCDOE planning and feedback process for school leadership is the APPR for principals pursuant to Education Law 3012-c. The components of the system are set forth in the June 1st determination by the Commissioner of Education and supporting documentation. Education Law 3012-c and SED regulations. Superintendents are the rating officer for the principals. These data workbooks are a powerful opportunity for schools, in collaboration with their Networks, to engage with their accountability data to understand individual student outcomes.

aspiring leaders from within their schools. If the nominee is selected through the ONS application process to open a new school, the principal supports the aspiring leader in a mentor-mentee relationship. The principal mentor coaches the new principal through the New Schools Intensive and after the new school opens. New school leaders partner with intermediary organizations for their track records of success with leadership and teacher support. These organizations provide experienced coaches who offer leadership and teacher support.

To recruit expert teachers, NYCDOE creates a diverse candidate pool. For subject-shortage areas in which there are not enough traditionally-certified teachers to meet the needs of schools, we developed alternative-certification programs such as the New York City Teaching Fellows, which prepares skilled professionals and recent college graduates to teach in high-need schools. Begun in 2000, since then the program has provided schools with more than 17,000 teachers. Today, nearly 8,500 Fellows are currently teaching in 86% of NYCDOE schools. In addition, we created a teaching residency program specifically to build a pipeline of teachers prepared to turnaround the performance of our lowest-performing schools. The NYCDOE created the Leader Teacher program for experienced educators to support professional development in their schools. The NYCDOE also leverages the state-funded Teachers of Tomorrow grant to provide recruitment and retention incentives for teachers to work in our highest-need schools.

ii. Hiring and budget processes

In the 2012-13 school year, approximately $9 billion of NYCDOE funding, not including most fringe and pension, resides in school budgets. FSF dollars – approximately $5 billion in the 2012-13 school year – are used by schools to cover basic instructional needs and are allocated to each school based on the number and need-level of students enrolled at that school. All money allocated through FSF can be used at the principal's discretion. Additional funding is provided through categorical and programmatic allocations.

Each year the NYCDOE sets hiring policies to ensure that the appropriate number and types of teachers and principals can be recruited and hired into our 1,700 schools. Principals are typically in place in schools by July 1 before the start of the next school year to begin year-long planning and school improvement efforts. Once selected, principals are empowered to make staffing decisions for their schools. The NYCDOE's responsibility is to offer a strong pool of applicants for principals to find the staff that they believe are the best fit for their school communities.

Schools receive their budgets for the new fiscal year each May. Annual hiring exceptions are set to ensure that hard-to-staff schools are staffed appropriately. These exceptions are made on the basis of the following factors: hard to staff subject areas, geographic districts, and grade level (elementary, middle, high). The timeline allows school leaders the ability to plan for any staffing needs or adjustments in concert with the citywide hiring process which begins in the spring and continues into the summer.

New schools seek highly-qualified staff in a variety of areas. Qualified individuals must demonstrate awareness of the vision and mission of the school, the willingness to create a new school, and commitment to the belief that every student can learn and succeed. Staff is selected in accordance with all contractual provisions of the UFT/NYCDOE Collective Bargaining

Principals are trained through the Children's First Intensive (CFI) Institutes, which they attend to learn about the Citywide Instructional Expectations, CCLS, and the Danielson model. CFI is a professional development program designed to support educators in using data to inform Frank Hernandez has been identified as the interim acting principal for P.S. 385 Performance School. He has experiences as a teacher's assistant, classroom teacher, mathematics coach, data specialist, and assistant principal. Through his many roles in the school system, he has served as an instructional leader, supporting teachers in their professional development, fostering a culture of reflective practice, and bringing a data-driven approach to instructional planning.

Alexa Sorden will lead P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School, which will replace P.S. 385. She has been an educator in the Department of Education for the past 13 years, educating students in kindergarten through third grade, leading curriculum development and instructional strategy support supports ELLs and SWDs and providing professional on the Common Core Learning Standards and the Danielson framework to provide rigorous instruction to promote student achievement. Mrs. Sorden was most recently asked to become the principal of a struggling school in District 4 where under her leadership, attendance improved to 92.8% and OORS incidents dropped more than 80%. Mrs. Sorden is completing the New School Intensive program this spring 2013.

iv. District-wide trainings for teachers in low-achieving schools

The NYCDOE believes that to support teachers in their growth and development, it is important to have a common language and understanding of what quality teaching looks like. We have invested significant resources into deepening schools' and teachers' understanding of Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Teaching, while training principals to do more frequent cycles of formative classroom observations and feedback. Resources to support this work are provided to schools and educators in a number of ways: central and school-based professional development opportunities, online courses, and centrally-based Talent Coaches who work across multiple schools. In addition, the NYCDOE has developed district-wide training programs to build the capacity of specific groups of teachers, including new teachers, teacher leaders, and teachers that work with special populations.

New teachers who work in low-achieving schools are provided differentiated levels of support, depending on their pathway to teaching. The NYCDOE's Middle School Spring Classroom Apprenticeship helps prepare aspiring teachers (traditionally-certified and alternatively-certified) for the rigor and challenges of a high-need school through an intensive ten-week, school-embedded program. The New York City Teaching Fellows program, along with the Teach for America program, prepares alternatively-certified teachers through an intensive pre-service training program and then a subsidized master's degree program while Fellows or Corps members are teaching in a New York City public school.

In the summer of 2011, NYCDOE also launched the NYC Teaching Residency program to specifically support schools implementing intervention models. The program focuses on recruiting and preparing individuals dedicated to driving change as part of a school turnaround strategy in our lowest-performing schools. The Teaching Residency program currently offers a fill immersion experience at a school for one year, working alongside a Resident Teacher Mentor as an apprentice teacher in the classroom while also receiving training in teaching strategies proven to be successful in turning around school performance. Training residents also have university coursework toward a graduate degree in education tailored to support their career development. Residency graduates go on to work in high-poverty and high-minority schools.

Several district-wide training programs are also available for teacher leaders who work in low-achieving schools. First, the Lead Teacher program allows teachers to stay in the classroom while supporting their colleagues as a part-time coach. Professional development is offered monthly through a collaboration with the UFT Teacher Center. More than 230 teachers are participating across 140 schools in 2012-13. Second, the Teacher Leadership Program (TLP) was established in 2012 and is a one-year program that builds the capacity of teacher leaders to develop their instructional and facilitative leadership skills. During the 2012-13 school year, TLP trained 250 teachers in 189 schools. The program is anticipated to expand to train 375 teacher leaders during the 2013-14 school year, which will focus on teacher teams from the same school. Finally, the Common Core Fellows lead the citywide work around articulating and evaluating what quality instruction looks like as we transition to the Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS). Teachers are trained to examine the quality and alignment of instructional materials to the CCLS. There are 300 fellows in school year 2012-13. Fellows have examined more than 600 samples of work to date this year across all Clusters. NYCDOE teacher leadership programs are described here:

v. District trainings offered for Year One (September 2013-August 2014)

See attached chart.

E. External Partner Recruitment, Screening, and Matching

i. District mechanism to identify, screen, select, match, and evaluate partners for school

To identify, screen, select, match, and evaluate external partner organizations, the NYCDOE uses a Pre-Qualified Solicitation (PQS) process to award contracts. PQS is an ongoing open call-for-proposals process by which the NYCDOE thoroughly vets potential partners. Each vendor undergoes a rigorous screening process, which includes a comprehensive background check and proposal evaluation by a committee of three program experts who independently evaluate vendor proposals in terms of project narrative, organizational capacity, qualifications and experience, and pricing level. The result is a pool of highly-qualified partner organizations which are approved and fully contracted. The Priority School is then able to select services from any of the pre-qualified external partner organizations by soliciting proposals and choosing the best fit according to its needs.

In addition, the NYCDOE uses a specific solicitation process called Whole School Reform, which seeks proposals from organizations experienced in working with schools in need of school intervention. The goal is for the partners to support the school to build capacity and enable the school to continue improvement efforts on its own. Partner proposals must offer a variety of methods and strategies grounded in best practices to achieve substantial gains. Potential partners provide accountability plans that include annual evaluations on student achievement progress and the process for enabling schools to continue the reform efforts beyond the contract period, along with at least three references from current or past client schools. Once partner proposals are reviewed by the evaluation committee and recommended for approval, further due diligence is done before formal recommendation for the Panel for Educational Policy for approval. Schools have discretion to select approved partners based on their scope of service needs.

Major partners that will be providing services critical to the implementation of P.S.385 Performance School's plan are:

- Editure/AUSSIE
- Tequipment
- Habits of Mind

Major partners that are identified to work with P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School include:

- Creative School Services
- Ramapo for Children
- Education through
- Turnaround for Children
- Frank Cunningham, Inc.

ii. Process to ensure school has access to partner by start of Year One Priority Schools receive budget allocations for the new fiscal year in late May, well in advance of the start of the new fiscal year in July and the start of the school year in September. The NYCDOE budget process provides schools with ample time to secure external partner support through the above-mentioned PQS system. Schools may secure services from a list of external partners that have already been thoroughly vetted by NYCDOE.

Individual schools create a scope of service and solicit proposals from partners based on their specific needs. Once received, schools score proposals and award contracts to the most competitive and cost-effective external partner. Using the PQS system, Priority Schools secure support from effective external Whole School Reform partners as early as May or June, well in advance of the year-one implementation period.

iii. Roles of district and school principal for partner screening, selection and evaluation

The NYCDOE manages the initial process of screening potential partner organizations so that schools can focus on selecting partner organizations based on their budget and service needs. NYCDOE manages an ongoing call-for-proposals process for select PQS categories of services to schools. All proposals received by the NYCDOE for the PQS must first be reviewed to determine if they meet all of the submission and vendor qualifications prescribed in the call for proposal. Proposals meeting these requirements are evaluated and rated by a district-based evaluation committee within specific criteria.

As needed, the NYCDOE may conduct site visits to verify information contained in a proposal and may require a potential partner to make a presentation on their services or submit additional written material in support of a proposal. Once the NYCDOE recommends a vendor for award, the recommendation is reviewed by the Division of Contracts and Purchasing for approval and then the Panel for Educational Policy for review and final approval.

School principals are able to contract services from any of the approved pre-qualified educational partners by developing a specific scope of work, soliciting proposals using a user-friendly online tool and choosing the most competitive partner according to their specific needs. Once school principals receive school budgets for the new fiscal year in May, they are able to begin negotiating with potential partners for services in the new school year. The process allows principals sufficient time to solicit vendors and establish contracts in time for the new school year and possible preparation activities during the summer.

At the end of each school year, each school principal evaluates the services of the vendors – based on the objectives, proposed scope of services, and outcomes from the services – and determines whether to continue the partnership.

F. Enrollment and Retention Policies, Practices, and Strategies

i. Priority School's enrollment

In Performance School, students with disabilities comprise 24% of the school's population, 6% points higher than the citywide elementary school average. English Language Learners comprise 26% of the school's population, 11% points higher than the citywide elementary school average. Only 14% of the students at the school are proficient in English Language Arts, putting the school in the bottom 1% citywide. Only 12% of the students at the school are proficient in Mathematics, putting the school in the bottom 1% citywide. Students with disabilities, ELLs, and students performing below proficiency have the same access to schools as their non-disabled, English proficient, and proficient scoring peers. Developing a choice-based system for enrolling students has been a cornerstone of NYCDOE's Children's First Reform efforts. In the past two years, the Department has worked to increase equitable access to high quality programs at all grade levels in the community school district.

The elementary school process for admission includes a mix of choice and zoned schools. Zoned schools give priority to students who live in the geographic zoned area. Choice schools admit students based on published admissions priorities. Families may apply to all schools of interest.

Our portfolio strategy to increase access has led to the elimination of zones in several districts. In Districts 1, 7, and 23, there are no zoned schools. Families in each of these districts have an opportunity to apply to any school of interest, and can express their preferences by ranking choices on a single application.

ii. Policies for SWDs, ELLs, and low-proficiency students' access to high-quality schools

The NYCDOE has policies and practices in place to help ensure that Students with Disabilities (SWDs), English Language Learners (ELLs), and students performing below proficiency have increasing access to diverse and high quality school options across the district. The NYCDOE Progress Report also ensures that schools have public data that encourages the school to focus on SWDs and ELLs. In addition, the Progress Report rewards additional credit to schools that make significant progress or have high performance with either of these subgroups.

The NYCDOE operates a school choice-based system for students and families from PreK to high school, which consistently matches the majority of students to their top choice schools. For example, for the previous five years, the high school admissions process has matched over 80% of students to one of their top five choices. In November 2011, the Brookings Institution issued a report that cited New York City's school choice system as the most effective of any of the nation's largest school districts. The NYCDOE's recent enrollment reform efforts continue the work to ensure that SWDs, ELLs, and students performing below proficiency have access to diverse and high quality school options across the district.

The NYCDOE has changed the composition of seats for students in the high school admissions process by de-screening seats in programs that maintain unfilled seats. Typically, schools that have screened programs are allowed to rank students who meet that program's admissions criteria, and only those students who are ranked may be matched to that school. However, this has historically led to situations in which students, who may be just slightly under the admissions criteria, are denied access to a desirable seat, while some school seats remain unfilled.

As a pilot program in school year 2011-12, the NYCDOE de-screened seats in programs that were not filling their seat targets in order to provide greater access to SWDs, ELLs, and students performing below proficiency. The work of de-screening approximately 20 programs resulted in the placement of approximately 900 students into academically screened seats that would have otherwise gone unfilled. In 2012-13, the NYCDOE further expanded this pilot to ensure that all students have access to screened seats. As a result almost 1,300 students were placed into these programs. The NYCDOE will continue this work.

It is not enough to only provide access to high-quality school options for SWDs, ELLs, and students performing below proficiency. Once these students are enrolled in desirable school programs, the NYCDOE is supporting schools in meeting their unique learning needs. The NYCDOE previously made modifications to the Fair Student Funding formula to provide weights, which provide additional funding, for harder-to-serve students, including weights for Academic Intervention Services (AIS), English Language Learners (ELLs), and Special Education Services. In 2011-12, the NYCDOE revised the funding methodology to provide additional weights to traditional high schools serving overage under-credited (OAUC) students. Providing schools with additional funding for AIS and OAUC further supports students that are performing below proficiency, and may also include ELLs and/or SWDs.

As part of the Turnaround model, the NYCDOE is phasing-out low-performing Priority Schools and replacing them with promising new schools. The new schools have the potential to attract many students, and the Office of Student Enrollment and new school leaders are working actively to recruit all students, including SWDs, ELLs, and students performing below proficiency. New elementary and middle schools serve the same zone or district population as the phase-out school, and new high schools have a limited unscreened admissions policy (in which students receive priority based on their attendance at an information session) giving priority to students residing in or attending school in the borough.

iii. District strategies for enrollment equity

The NYCDOE employs specific strategies to ensure that Priority Schools are not receiving or incentivized to receive disproportionately high numbers of SWDs, ELLs, and students performing below proficiency.

The most important strategy is the reform of the over-the-counter (OTC) process, which has been critical to managing disproportionately high enrollment of SWDs, ELLs, and students performing below proficiency in Priority Schools. Each summer, the NYCDOE opens temporary registration centers across the city to assist families seeking placement or hardship transfers during the peak enrollment period before the start of school. Approximately 15,000 new or returning students are placed during the peak OTC period and are overwhelmingly higher-needs students. Placements are made based on projected seat availability by October 31. The NYCDOE is working to lessen the concentration of OTC students at any one school.

For the past two years, the NYCDOE has added seats to every high school's OTC projection. As a result, the impact of OTC placements at low-performing schools, including former Persistently-Lowest Achieving (PLA) or Priority Schools, was minimized, and there was an increase in student access to more programs. The NYCDOE OTC population changes year to year. As it changes, we have mitigated the effects of high populations of harder-to-serve students for PLA/Priority Schools. For example, from 2011 to 2012, the number of Special Education Students placed during OTC increased by 14% citywide. However, for PLA/Priority schools the number of Special Education Students placed during OTC actually decreased by 2%.

Since 2002, the NYCDOE has opened more than 190 new high schools; many of these SIG-funded through the Turnaround model. Based on data from schools phased out from 2002-2008 and new schools opened in 2009, new schools are serving similar populations of students. Students with Disabilities percentages were 13.3% at phase out schools and 13.1% at new schools; English Language Learner percentages were 18% at the phase out schools and 13.9% at the new schools. Citywide averages in 2009 were 16.2% for SWDs and 14.2% for ELLs.

G. District-level Labor and Management Consultation and Collaboration

i. Consultation and collaboration on district- and school-level plans

The NYCDOE has consulted and collaborated with key stakeholders on the development of SIG district and school-level implementation plans. The NYCDOE provided guidance to schools, Networks, and Clusters in the development of their school-level plans to engage school stakeholders in the development of the SIG plan.

Schools submitted Attachment A, the Consultation & Collaboration Documentation Form, in order to ensure consultation and collaboration took place on the school-level plans. School-plan signatures included representatives from the principals' union – the Council of Supervisors & Administrators (CSA), teachers' union – the United Federation of Teachers (UFT), and a parent leader.

For the new schools as part of the Turnaround model, the NYCDOE worked with the CSA, UFT, and the parent body of the district to ensure there was local-level engagement even though the new schools do not officially open until September 2013. For the UFT, proposed new leaders met with UFT district representatives on their plans and obtained their signature on Attachment A. The NYCDOE consulted with the Chancellor's Parent Advisory Council (CPAC) to determine that district representatives would engage through the scheduling of meetings and then through email with the proposed new leaders on their school-level plans.

At the district-level, the NYCDOE consulted and collaborated with recognized district leaders of UFT, CSA, and CPAC. The initial SIG engagement process with each group took place April 26-May 2 via phone calls and emails about the NYCDOE SIG applications. Following the initial engagement, the NYCDOE met with the Chancellor's Parent Advisory Council (CPAC) in a full meeting on May 9 to consult and collaborate on SIG. CPAC is the group of parent leaders in the NYCDOE; it is comprised of presidents of the district presidents' councils. The role of CPAC is to consult with the district presidents' councils to identify concerns, trends, and policy issues, and it advises the Chancellor on NYCDOE policies.

The NYCDOE and UFT held a SIG consultation and collaboration meeting on May 16. The NYCDOE then followed up on the three issues raised by the UFT in the meeting. Based on the UFT's concern about the Turnaround model, the NYCDOE proposed language to include in the applications. Following up on the UFT's concern about including targets for "effective" and "highly effective" teachers in Attachment B at this time, the NYCDOE agreed to not ask schools to submit this information as our APPR plan was not yet underway. Finally, the NYCDOE addressed the concern about school-level consultation and collaboration by extending the school-level submission of Attachment A by two weeks, addressing school-specific concerns as needed, and participating in meetings with the UFT to share SIG information. For the new schools, the UFT and NYCDOE jointly facilitated a consultation and collaboration meeting on May 28 for the new school principals and the UFT district representatives on the new school plans. The UFT and NYCDOE met on June 5 in another consultation and collaboration meeting.

On June 5, the NYCDOE and CSA held a SIG consultation and collaboration meeting. Prior to the meeting, multiple phone calls and emails took place to discuss SIG and address specific school questions. The NYCDOE responded to CSA requests for information about the SIG applications.

ii. Consultation and Collaboration Form (Attachment A)

See attached. The district-level form is signed by the president/leaders of the teachers' union, principals' union, and district parent body. The individuals who signed are Michael Mulgrew – UFT President, Ernest Logan – CSA President, and Jane Reiff – CPAC Co-Chair.

school to another, the Board and the Union agree that transfers shall be based upon the following principles:

A. General Transfers

Effective school year 2005-2006, principals will advertise all vacancies. Interviews will be conducted by school-based human resources committees (made up of pedagogues and administration) with the final decision to be made by the principal. Vacancies are defined as positions to which no teacher has been appointed, except where a non-appointed teacher is filling in for an appointed teacher on leave. Vacancies will be posted as early as April 15 of each year and will continue being posted throughout the spring and summer. Candidates (teachers wishing to transfer and excessed teachers) will apply to specifically posted vacancies and will be considered, for example, through job fairs and/or individual application to the school. Candidates may also apply to schools that have not advertised vacancies in their license areas so that their applications are on file at the school should a vacancy arise.

Selections for candidates may be made at any time; however, transfers after August 7th require the release of the teacher's current principal. Teachers who have repeatedly been unsuccessful in obtaining transfers or obtaining regular teaching positions after being excessed, will, upon request, receive individualized assistance from the Division of Human Resources and/or the Peer Intervention Program on how to maximize their chances of success in being selected for a transfer.

B. Hardship Transfers

In addition to the vacancies available for transfer pursuant to Section A of this Article, transfers on grounds of hardship shall be allowed in accordance with the following:

Transfers of teachers after three years of service on regular appointment may be made on grounds of hardship on the basis of the circumstances of each particular case, except that travel time by public transportation of more than one hour and thirty minutes each way between a teacher's home (or City line in the case of a teacher residing outside the City) and school shall be deemed to constitute a "hardship" entitling the applicant to a transfer to a school to be designated by the Division of Human Resources which shall be within one hour and thirty minutes travel time by public transportation from the teacher's home, or City line in the case of a teacher residing outside the City.

C. Voluntary Teacher Exchange

The Chancellor shall issue a memorandum promoting the exchange of new ideas and methodology and encouraging teachers to share their special skills with students and colleagues in other schools. To facilitate achievement of this goal, the Board and the Union agree to allow teachers to exchange positions for a one year period provided that the principals of both schools agree to the exchange. The exchange may be renewed for an additional one year period. For all purposes other than payroll distribution, the teachers will remain on the organizations of their home schools.

D. Staffing New or Redesigned Schools<sup>9</sup>

The following applies to staffing of new or redesigned schools ("Schools")

1. A Personnel Committee shall be established, consisting of two Union representatives designated by the UFT President, two representatives designated by the community superintendent for community school district schools or by the Chancellor for schools/programs under his/her jurisdiction, a Principal/or Project Director, and where appropriate a School Planning Committee Representative and a parent.

2. For its first year of operation the School's staff shall be selected by the Personnel Committee which should, to the extent possible, make its decisions in a consensual manner.

In the first year of staffing a new school, the UFT Personnel Committee members shall be school-based staff designated from a school other than the impacted school or another school currently in the process of being phased out. The Union will make its best effort to designate representatives from comparable schools who share the instructional vision and mission of the new school, and who will seek to ensure that first year hiring supports the vision and mission identified in the approved new school application.

In the second and subsequent years, the Union shall designate representatives from the new school to serve on its Personnel Committee.

3. If another school(s) is impacted (i.e., closed or phased out), staff from the impacted school(s) will be guaranteed the right to apply and be considered for positions in the School. If sufficient numbers of displaced staff apply, at least fifty percent of the School's pedagogical positions shall be selected from among the appropriately licensed most senior applicants from the impacted school(s), who meet the School's qualifications. The Board will continue to hire pursuant to this provision of the Agreement until the impacted school is closed.

4. Any remaining vacancies will be filled by the Personnel Committee from among transferees, excesses, and/or new hires. In performing its responsibilities, the Personnel Committee shall adhere to all relevant legal and contractual requirements including the hiring of personnel holding the appropriate credentials.

5. In the event the Union is unable to secure the participation of members on the Personnel Committee, the Union will consult with the Board to explore other alternatives. However the Union retains the sole right to designate the two UFT representatives on the Personnel Committee.

ARTICLE NINETEEN UNION ACTIVITIES, PRIVILEGES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

A. Restriction on Union Activities

No teacher shall engage in Union activities during the time he/she is assigned to teaching or other duties, except that members of the Union's negotiating committee and its special consultants shall, upon proper application, be excused without loss of pay for working time spent in negotiations with the Board or its representatives.

B. Time for Union Representatives

1. Chapter leaders shall be allowed time per week as follows for investigation of grievances and for other appropriate activities relating to the administration of the Agreement and to the duties of their office:

a. In the elementary schools, four additional preparation periods.

b. In the junior high schools, and in the high schools, relief from professional activity periods. In the junior high schools, chapter leaders shall be assigned the same number of teaching periods as homeroom teachers.

b. All votes of non-supervisory school based staff concerning participating in SBM / SDM shall be conducted by the UFT chapter.

c. Schools involved in SBM / SDM shall conduct ongoing self-evaluation and modify the program as needed.

2. SBM / SDM Teams

a. Based upon a peer selection process, participating schools shall establish an SBM / SDM team. For schools that come into the program after September 1993, the composition will be determined at the local level. Any schools with a team in place as of September 1993 will have an opportunity each October to revisit the composition of its team.

b. The UFT chapter leader shall be a member of the SBM / SDM team.

c. Each SBM / SDM team shall determine the range of issues it will address and the decision-making process it will use.

3. Staff Development

The Board shall be responsible for making available appropriate staff development, technical assistance and support requested by schools involved in SBM / SDM, as well as schools expressing an interest in future involvement in the program. The content and design of centrally offered staff development and technical assistance programs shall be developed in consultation with the Union.

4. Waivers

a. Requests for waivers of existing provisions of this Agreement or Board regulations must be approved in accordance with the procedure set forth in Article Eight B (School Based Options) of this Agreement i.e. approval of fifty-five (55) percent of those UFT chapter members voting and agreement of the school principal, UFT district representative, appropriate superintendent, the President of the Union and the Chancellor.

b. Waivers or modifications of existing provisions of this Agreement or Board regulations applied for by schools participating in SBM / SDM are not limited to those areas set forth in Article Eight B (School-Based Options) of this Agreement.

c. Existing provisions of this Agreement and Board regulations not specifically modified or waived, as provided above, shall continue in full force and effect in all SBM / SDM schools.

d. In schools that vote to opt out of SBM / SDM, continuation of waivers shall be determined jointly by the President of the Union and the Chancellor.

e. All School-Based Option votes covered by this Agreement, including those in Circular 6R, shall require an affirmative vote of fifty-five percent (55%) of those voting.

B. School-Based Options

The Union chapter in a school and the principal may agree to modify the existing provisions of this Agreement or Board regulations concerning class size, rotation of assignments/classes, teacher schedules and/or rotation of paid coverages for the entire school year. By the May preceding the year in which the proposal will be in effect, the proposal will be submitted for ratification in the school in accordance with Union procedures which will require approval of fifty-five (55) percent of those voting. Resources available to the school shall be maintained at the same level which would be required if the proposal were not in effect. The Union District Representative, the President of the Union, the appropriate Superintendent and the Chancellor must approve the proposal and should be kept informed as the proposal is developed. The proposal will be in effect for one school year.

Should problems arise in the implementation of the proposal and no resolution is achieved at the school level, the District Representative and the Superintendent will attempt to resolve the problem. If they are unable to do so, it will be resolved by the Chancellor and the Union President. Issues arising under this provision are not subject to the grievance and arbitration procedures of the Agreement.

C. School Allocations

Before the end of June and by the opening of school in September, to involve faculties and foster openness about the use of resources, the principal shall meet with the chapter leader and UFT chapter committee to discuss, explain and seek input on the use of the school allocations. As soon as they are available, copies of the school allocations will be provided to the chapter leader and UFT chapter committee.

Any budgetary modifications regarding the use of the school allocations shall be discussed by the principal and chapter committee.

The Board shall utilize its best efforts to develop the capacity to include, in school allocations provided pursuant to this Article 8C, the specific extracurricular activities budgeted by each school.

D. Students' Grades

The teacher's judgment in grading students is to be respected; therefore if the principal changes a student's grade in any subject for a grading period, the principal shall notify the teacher of the reason for the change in writing.

E. Lesson Plan Format

The development of lesson plans by and for the use of the teacher is a professional responsibility vital to effective teaching. The organization, format, notation and other physical aspects of the lesson plan are appropriately within the discretion of each teacher. A principal or supervisor may suggest, but not require, a particular format or organization, except as part of a program to improve deficiencies of teachers who receive U-ratings or formal warnings.

F. Joint Efforts

The Board of Education and the Union recognize that a sound educational program requires not only the efficient use of existing resources but also constant experimentation with new methods and organization. The Union agrees that experimentation presupposes flexibility in assigning and programming pedagogical and other professional personnel. Hence, the Union will facilitate its members' voluntary participation in new ventures that may depart from usual procedures. The Board agrees that educational experimentation will be consistent with the standards of working conditions prescribed in this Agreement.

The Board and the Union will continue to participate in joint efforts to promote staff integration.

The parties will meet with a view toward drafting their collective bargaining agreements to reflect and embody provisions appropriate to the new and/or nontraditional school program organizational structures that have developed in the last several years, including as a result of this Agreement.

G. Professional Support for New Teachers

The Union and the Board agree that all teachers new to the New York City Public Schools are entitled to collegial support as soon as they commence service. The New

ESEA Flexibility Waiver

In September 2011, the Federal government announced an ESEA regulatory initiative, inviting states to request flexibility regarding specific requirements of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCLB) in exchange for state-developed plans designed to improve educational outcomes for all students, close achievement gaps, increase equity, and improve the quality of instruction. NYSED received approval from the U.S. Department of Education (USDE) for its flexibility waiver request, authorizing New York State to revise its accountability system and provide schools across New York State with flexibility in aligning resources to increase student outcomes. For additional information regarding specific provisions waived please visit: <http://www.p12.nysed.gov/esea-waiver/>

The waiver replaces the previous identification system and categories (PLA, Restructuring, Corrective Action, In Need of Improvement, In Good Standing, Rapidly Improving, and High Performing) with the new categories of Priority Schools, Focus Districts and Focus Schools, Local Assistance Plan Schools, Recognition Schools, and Reward Schools, using a new identification process. According to state rules, the identification of Priority, Focus, and Reward Schools is based on data from the 2010-11 school year and prior.

Effective from 2012-13 through 2014-15, the new system introduces more realistic performance targets and puts greater emphasis on student growth and college- and career-readiness, which also aligns with the Chancellors' priorities.

The ESEA waiver grants flexibility in the following areas:

- o 2013-14 Timeline for All Students Becoming Proficient
- o School and District Improvement Requirements
- o Highly Qualified Teacher Improvement Plans
- o School-wide Programs
- o Use of School Improvement Grant Funds
- o Twenty-First Century Community Learning
- o Determining Annual Yearly Progress (AYP) for each school and district (optional)
- o Rank Order

This flexibility also releases all schools from the requirement of setting aside 5% and 10% of their allocation to support the highly qualified and professional development mandates. It allows schools the opportunity to align resources and design programs that meet the specific needs of students to increase outcomes.

Allocation and Requirements

As per the ESEA Flexibility waiver, the allocation for Priority and Focus Schools is based on the county provisions and county allocations for New York City. The percentages required to be set aside for Priority and Focus school range from 5% to 9%. Four of the five counties were identified as having a need under the new regulations. The per capita for each county is as follows:

Borough	Manhattan	Bronx	Brooklyn	Queens	Staten Island
Per Capita	$277.96	$242.33	$257.86	$281.96	N/A

The Title I Priority and Focus school allocation must support program and activities mentioned in the School Comprehensive Education Plan (SCEP). Allowable activities appear in Appendix A. Schools will also need to identify the allowable activities with each item scheduled in Galaxy, as indicated in more detail below.

Parent Involvement

Priority and Focus Schools that received Title I Part A must continue to set aside 1% of their school's allocation to support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the parent involvement policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the comprehensive education plan.

A school-wide program (SWP) is based on a comprehensive school-wide program plan designed collaboratively at the school level to improve instruction. In addition to providing challenging content, the school-wide program plan incorporates intensive professional development for staff and collaboration, where appropriate, with community organizations to strengthen the school's program.

Parent Engagement

Focus and Priority schools that received Title I Part A must also set aside 1% of their Title I Focus and Priority School allocation for Parent Engagement programs. Non-Title I Priority and Focus Schools will receive support for parent activities based upon 2% of a school's estimated poverty costs utilizing the same rate as their borough Title I per capita, to provide for the base 1% Parent Involvement and 1% Parent Engagement mandates.

The primary objective of this additional set aside is to enable greater and more meaningful parent participation in the education of their children. To this end, we have identified these Partnership Standards for School and Families which define parent engagement and provide guidance to schools and families in building partnerships that lead to greater student success. These allowable activities may be supported with the set-aside requirement and include:

- Fostering Communication: School and families engage in an open exchange of information regarding student progress, school wide goals and support activities.
- Encouraging Parent Involvement: Parents have diverse and meaningful roles in the school community and their children's achievement.
- Creating Welcoming Schools: Creating a welcoming, positive school climate with the commitment of the entire school community.
- Partnering for School Success: School engages families in setting high expectations for students and actively partners with parents to prepare students for their next level.
- Collaborating Effectively: School community works together to make decisions about the academic and personal growth of students through school wide goals. School fosters collaborations with community-based organizations to create a vibrant, fulfilling environment for students and families.

These standards are also consistent with the sixth tenet on parent engagement. Beginning this year, schools will have an opportunity to receive training through Parent Academy which is designed to build and enhance capacity within our school communities for effective home-school partnerships and will feature borough-wide training sessions for families. For more information about Parent Academy, please visit the Department's website at www.nycparentacademy.org and/or contact the Division of Family and Community Engagement at (212) 374-4118.

Public School Choice

Public School Choice is required for all Priority and Focus Schools. LEA's must provide all students in identified schools with the option to transfer to another public school in good standing, and provide/pay for transportation to the receiving schools. A child who transfers may remain in the receiving school until the child has completed the highest grade in that school.

Supplemental Education Services

The NYCDOE will no longer provide Supplemental Education Services (SES). Schools that choose to provide academic remediation can select from an array of contracted vendors, including those that provide expanded learning time.

If a school chooses to provide expanded learning time to students, they would use the Multiple Task Award Contract (MTAC) utility to get the best vendor for their needs. Using the MTAC utility schools would:

- Solicit "bids" from providers whose programs meet the needs and goals of their school. The solicitations would articulate the desired program design, students served, services needed, start and end dates and schedules.
- Find providers interested in working with their school. Providers would respond by submitting a proposal outlining the services they can give to the school and how the services will be rendered.
- Use the utility's prescribed rating sheet to document their selection.
- Once the providers have been selected and a purchase order has been issued, schools would notify the Division of Contracts and Purchasing as to the provider, program and schedule that has been arranged so that fingerprinting and other requirements will be managed centrally.
- All services will be offered on school property; vendors will be required to budget and pay for extended use and security as required.

A list of ELT vendors can be found in Appendix C.

In addition to implementing an Expanded Learning Time programs, schools can create programs aligned to the allowable activities. These services can also be procured using the MTAC process.

Galaxy Requirements

As funds are scheduled, schools will need to select one of the brief activity descriptions summarized on the list below in the "Program" drop-down field in Galaxy. This will demonstrate compliance with allowable activities, as described in detail in Appendix A.

- Per session activities
- Training rate
- Hiring F-status staff
- Prep period coverage
- Per Diem

Payments to staff must be done in accordance with collective bargaining agreements, and are processed through the regular bulk job and timekeeping system. Refer to Appendix A: Allowable Activities for Improvements List of Allowable Activities for Improvement Set-Aside Requirement, Section D: Great Teachers and Leaders for detailed examples of allowable services.

School Comprehensive Education Plan (SCEP)

Priority and Focus Schools are required to construct a School Comprehensive Education Plan (SCEP). The SCEP will be submitted as part of the District Comprehensive Improvement Plan (DCIP) that addresses all of the tenets outlined in the Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness (DTSDE).

Required school plans should be based on the findings and recommendations contained in the most recent School Quality Review (SQR), External School Curriculum Audit (ESCA), School Curriculum Readiness Audit (SCRA), Joint Intervention Team (JIT), and/or Persistently Lowest Achieving (PLA) reports. Priority and Focus schools must also develop an action plan incorporating the goals and activities of the Quality Improvement Process (QIP), if any, related to improvement activities for the subgroup of students with disabilities

Prior to completing the SCEP, the school should conduct a needs assessment by evaluating the recommendations from all of the most recent school level reports. Recommendations should be organized according to the Six Tenets and programs and services from the list of allowable school improvement activities, which align the six tenets and the statements of practice that are embedded in the Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness. Refer to Appendix B: Six Tenets of the SCEP for detailed examples of the tenets.

The Priority and Focus School allocations will be placed in Galaxy in the following allocation categories:

- Title I Priority/Focus SWP
- Title I Priority/Focus SWP Parent Engage
- Title I Priority/Focus TA
- Title I Priority/Focus TA Parent Engage
- Priority/Focus Non-Title I
- Priority/Focus Parent Engage Non-Title I

Budgets must be scheduled in Galaxy by November 9, 2012

We aim for excellence and provide high quality differentiated supports for schools in order to improve learning outcomes for all students. We aim to develop the expertise and effectiveness of staff as we mobilize and build capacity in our community to ensure that our support impacts student achievement and enhances teacher pedagogy. Our goal is to empower school leaders, teachers and staff to prepare and lead our students towards college and career readiness. Organizational Structure: An assigned "instructional point" provides direct support for the school. Professional development is not a folder of materials or an isolated event - it is a process. That process is part of being a reflective practitioner: of asking, "How can I make a difference to promote student achievement?" The question is, "How do I put wheels on this and get it on the road to mobilize capacity." Special Expertise: We ensure supports are in place for students and provide assistance with many systems. Learning is a process that moves through stages of meaning (building on ideas), machinery (acquiring skills, connecting strategies), and mastery (teaching the goal, applying learning to meet real-world challenges).

Through our ongoing commitment to collaboration and excellence, we will continue to provide the highest level of instructional and operational support possible to our network schools. Organizational Structure: The network has organized its structure under two distinct categories, instruction and operations, in order to provide seamless support to our schools. In addition, each school is assigned an Achievement Coach that visits frequently to provide PD that supports the CIE. Also, support to each school is customized through a workplan developed jointly by the principal and the network team. The workplan addresses areas of need based on the school's Quality Review, progress Report, budget, and other accountability measures. Special Expertise: Eighteen middle schools from our network are participating in the MSQI pilot program that focuses on reading strategies such as Guided and Reciprocal Reading, Socratic Seminar and intervention programs such as Ach 3000, Access Code, Just Words and Wilson. Members of the network team have supported these schools with its implementation. Mission/Philosophy: CFN 609 strives to support each of its schools with customized support based on a principal's vision, the Citywide Instructional Expectations and an analysis of available data systems (Progress Reports, Quality Reviews, Alternate Reviews, State Report Cards and school-based visits). Organizational Structure: School Liaisons (Achievement Coaches) are carefully matched to four or five schools and make site visits every two to three weeks. ## A. School Overview

i. School vision, mission, and goals of this plan

The visions, missions and goals described in this plan reflect those of two schools: the Priority School, 07X359 P.S. 385 Performance School, which is phasing out, and the new school, P.S. 07X359 359 Concourse Village Elementary School (CVES), which is phasing in to replace the Priority School under the Turnaround model.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The Priority School's vision is that all children can and should become lifelong learners. Children learn differently, and if they do not learn through the initial approach then methods must be adjusted to fit their learning style. Through an integrated curriculum, P.S 385 aims for all students to master the Common Core State Standards in all content areas. The mission of the leadership of P.S. 385 Performance School is the future success of all of its students. The school seeks to instill high expectations in all students and staff. P.S. 385 is committed to on-going staff development, best teaching practices, and meaningful parental involvement. The school's culture expects every student and staff member to be dedicated, hardworking, and caring. These elements, along with a safe, orderly and nurturing environment, will serve as the linchpin to a strong educational foundation for children.

As the school begins to phase down, it will aim to achieve the following goals:

1. To improve teacher effectiveness, with meaningful, formative feedback, and next steps from short, frequent cycles of formative classroom observations and the formal observation process.
2. Improve Reading and Math instruction by implementing a rigorous standards-based reading/writing, and math curriculum that aligns to the new Common Core State Standards and results in an improvement in student performance on the New York State ELA and Math exams.
3. Engage all teachers in horizontal/vertical teacher teams with the focus of studying the significance of our school-wide emphasis on the instructional shifts in reading, writing and math.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School (CVES) vision is to foster responsible and productive citizens with strong critical thinking and academic skills. P.S. 359 aims to achieve this through a rigorous and thought-provoking curriculum, delivered by passionate and motivated educators in a safe and nurturing environment, supported by families. The mission of the phase in school is to provide a safe and nurturing environment where all students are cognitively stimulated and academically challenged by a rigorous curriculum. P.S. 359 seeks to motivate students on a personal level through its core values of perseverance, optimism, willingness, empathy, and respect. The focus of these core values is to foster confident well-rounded leaders who will grow-up to become critical thinkers and socially responsible adults, who will positively impact the world around them.

As the school begins to phase in, it will aim to achieve the following goals:

1. Create a safe and nurturing environment that promotes school unity and the celebration of making positive choices.
2. Engage students' critical thinking skills through the implementation of a Common Core Learning Standards aligned, rigorous curriculum.
3. Create a culture of ongoing improvement and instructional best practices in line with the instructional shifts and the demands of the common core.

ii. School plan to achieve its vision, mission, and goals

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The first goal is grounded in Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Teaching. It will be used to develop evaluation procedures that simultaneously ensure high quality teaching and promote professional learning. The Principal, Assistant Principal, and teachers will collaborate in order to set and monitor teacher goals, using the 3 Priority Competencies from Danielson's Framework for Teaching, as designated by the NYCDOE Citywide Instructional Expectations for 2013 (Planning Coherent Instruction, Using Questioning and Discussion Techniques, Using Assessment in Instruction). Coaches, Assistant Principal, and Consultants will support teachers through professional development opportunities and mentoring. The principal and Assistant Principal will utilize the Framework for Teaching for informal classroom observations and formative classroom visits. Teacher growth will be supported through frequent observations with specific evidence-based feedback to teachers, provided on a timely basis (within one week after 75% of observations). Monthly one-on-one meetings with teachers will focus on the attainment of their professional goals to measure student learning. Professional development opportunities provided by Lead Teachers, Assistant Principals, and Consultants will be planned to meet the developmental needs of teachers. New teachers will receive the maximum support, and experienced teachers will have leadership opportunities to help support their professional learning throughout the school. Staff development will be monitored and revised, based on the results of student data and teacher effectiveness. The Framework for Teaching will be used as a foundation to inform professional discussions before and after classroom observations.

The second goal focuses on the idea of ensuring that each student has access to a Common Core aligned curriculum that supports them in achieving proficiency levels. Teachers will engage in professional development that allows them to be immersed in the Common Core Standards. They will critically analyze the standards to deepen their understanding of what the new grade levels student are. They will learn and practice innovative teaching strategies that will support students' acquisition of skills in reading, writing and math. Lead teachers will be hired to support this effort. There will be math and literacy Lead Teachers who will share one classroom. They each will spend half the day teaching their expert content area and the other half supporting their colleagues in implementing common core aligned lessons. The support will include, but not limited to, co-planning, demo lessons, co-teaching, debriefing sessions, low inference observations, and analysis of student work to inform instructional next steps. The Administrators will work closely with the Lead Teachers to further support the professional development of all classroom teachers.

The third goal will be achieved by dedicating ample time to common planning both within and across grade levels. Common planning by grade level will continue to be scheduled into the school day with common preps periods for grade level members to meet weekly. The priority school will incorporate common vertical planning sessions across grade levels. During these planning sessions, teachers will be able to engage in professional dialogue about the expectations for each grade level, what students should be able to know and do by the end of the school year to be prepared for the next. These sessions will also be expected to yield well developed curriculum maps that reflect what needs to be taught and learned so that students are at proficiency levels. Lastly, vertical planning will allow the leadership at P.S. 385 to flag gaps or redundancies in instruction.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

In an effort to support the mission of creating a safe and nurturing environment, P.S. 359 will partner with Ramapo for Children. Ramapo has a well-established track record for providing professional development in effective classroom management strategies. Given the challenges of the priority site, this expertise is the reason for the partnership. Additionally, P.S. 359 aims to use Ramapo's support to further develop its school culture. Since developing a strong culture is so crucial in the first year, the phase in school will work with Ramapo on team building activities to strengthen both professional and student relationships.

In addition to Ramapo, CVES will implement a School-wide Positive Behavior Intervention System (PBIS) with school rewards that celebrate students' good choices. The intention is to develop a systematic approach toward managing behavior throughout CVES. As a new school, setting clear expectations will support the implementation and effectiveness of the program. Teachers will receive professional development from trained NYC Department of Education specialists as well as a variety of resources to become proficient in understanding the implementation process of our school's PBIS model. The intention is to develop a systematic approach toward managing behavior throughout the school. Additionally, the school's vision is for staff member who becomes the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) specialist to lead the PBIS initiative.

CVES will focus on adhering to its instructional core, targeting curriculum, pedagogy, and assessment. The school will partner with Creative School Services and Frank Cunningham, Inc. to engage in ongoing rigorous curriculum enhancement with a focus on promoting critical thinking skills. The curriculum design will address students' interest as well as deepen their content knowledge across subject areas. Creative Schools Services consultants and Frank Cunningham will work alongside the instructional coach and teachers to develop targeted CCLS aligned tasks to measure what students know and are able to do in relation to standards. Furthermore, the consultants will support the process of developing CCLS aligned rubrics that will provide specific feedback on student strengths and next steps.

To further engage in curriculum enhancement, we will partner with The Danielson Group, which will support staff understanding and application of Charlotte Danielson's concepts to positively impact student learning. With the support of The Danielson Group, teachers will receive school-wide targeted professional development geared toward the instructional common core shifts along with an understanding of how to implement the framework into their daily practice. The use of these resources is meant to guide teachers toward achieving effective instruction that meets the needs of all learners. The following action steps will be implemented to ensure success of the phase in school goals:

- The IEP specialist to be hired will be expected to serve as the PBIS specialist; this person will be responsible for implementing, monitoring, and assessing the program's success. Our PBIS specialist will track the program's impact as well as document next steps needed to maintain a safe and orderly environment.
- Time will be allotted to review curriculum, research best practices, and engage in deep assessment analysis. Weekly meetings, pre-scheduled assessment review, and action planning sessions are expected to provide the necessary work time consistent engagement and curriculum improvement. During these sessions, student progress will be monitored and effective learning activities will be planned and differentiated for their needs. .
- The school model will rely on the Danielson Framework for Teaching to support its professional growth. Consultants will provide guidance on the framework to enhance instruction. Goals and growth will be tracked to drive next steps in pursuit of improved student achievement.

B. Assessing the Needs of the School Systems, Structures, Policies, and Students

i. School-level Baseline Data and Target-Setting Chart (Attachment B)

See Attachment B for each school.

ii. Description of school's student population and needs of sub-groups

The priority school is located in District 7 in the South Bronx. Performance School earned an "F" grade in student performance, a "C" in student progress as well as school environment, and had an overall progress report score of a "D."<sup>1</sup>

In the 2012-2013 school year, P.S. 385 served 543 students. Of this population approximately 61% were Hispanic, 36% Black, and 3% Asian, Native American, or White students. English Language Learners (ELLs) represent about 24% of the population and Students with Disabilities (SWD) represent about 24% of the population. 96% of these students are eligible for free or reduced lunch.<sup>2</sup>

iii. Diagnostic school review of the school conducted by the district or NYSED

A New York State School Quality Review conducted from May 1st and 2nd of 2012 found the following:

- There is limited evidence that the school systematically shares data trends, including the analysis of subgroup performance, with staff to establish goals and set school wide priorities.
- There is limited evidence that informal teacher visits provide sufficient, specific, or actionable written feedback detailing next steps needed for teachers to improve their practice.
- Strong emphasis on building community to improve student behavior and attitude has led to a limited focus on the development and improvement of specific student learning goals. There is limited evidence that progress targets for identified subgroups have been a part of the school-wide strategic plan.
- Although the school offers an extended day program, there is limited evidence the school has a comprehensive Academic Intervention Services (AIS) program during the regular school day to support these students beyond the provision of RTI services.
- There is limited evidence that training consistently targets specific strategies and areas in which teachers need additional support. There was limited evidence that the PD offerings are part of a school-wide strategic plan linked to AYP goals.
- Based on interviews conducted by the review team with teachers and students, staff has access to computers and other technology hardware but programs that target reading and writing development are not widely available.

iv. Results from systematic school review

In the Educational Impact Statement (EIS) prepared by the NYCDOE and approved by the Panel for Educational Policy (PEP) to phase out P.S. 385 Performance School included the following information:

- The overwhelming majority of Performance School students remain below grade level in English Language Arts (“ELA”) and Math. Only 14% of students were performing on grade level in ELA—putting the school in the bottom percentile of elementary schools Citywide. Only 12% of students were performing on grade level in Math—putting the school in the bottom percentile of elementary schools Citywide. In both ELA and Math proficiency, Performance School ranks last among District 7 elementary schools.
- The D received on its New York City Progress Report for 2012 marks a further decline in performance after the school received C grades in both 2010-2011 and 2009-2010.
- Performance School was identified by SED as a Priority school, defined by SED as one of the bottom 5% of schools in the state.
- Safety issues have been a concern at the school. On the 2011-2012 New York City School Survey, only 64% of teacher respondents believed that discipline and order were maintained at Performance School.

v. Priority areas of identified needs for school’s improvement

Based on the needs assessment described above, the Priority School and its replacement new school will prioritize distinct areas for improvement for their respective schools' SIG implementation plans.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The Performance School will focus in on a curriculum design that is robust in targeting Common Core Learning Standards. Students performing below grade level in literacy will be offered intervention services, using the Fountas & Pinnell Leveled Literacy Intervention program. In addition, Response to Intervention (RtI) will be used to target students and the type of intervention required in both literacy and math. Assessments will be administered periodically to diagnose and monitor areas of improvement.

A Data Coach will also guide our team in reviewing student work and other assessments to make instructional decisions. A Curriculum Coach will also meet with staff once per week to provide professional development in the design of curriculum that is framed within a backward-designed, social-issues approach. Together, the Literacy and Data coaches will provide ongoing support for differentiated instruction and daily formative assessment practices to ensure student understanding, and to mine for gaps in understanding so that they may be addressed. This work will also focus on training teachers on how to help students to identify the specific next steps they will need in order to achieve mastery of Common Core standards.

In order to develop teacher effectiveness in lesson planning and instruction, teachers at P.S. 385 will meet on an ongoing basis with the Curriculum Coach and the Network Math Coach. The priority school will partner with the Network to provide teachers with support on the teacher effectiveness rubric. In this way, teachers will make connections between the rubric and pedagogical practice.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

CVES will have students who are both new to the school, and students who are transferring from P.S. 385. Considering the needs assessment of P.S. 385, CVES will prioritize interventions that will help the transferring students' success on NYSED ELA and Math exams. This involves CVES's targeted efforts to deliver rigorous curriculum with high-quality instruction, as well as teaching students intrinsic motivation skills. The first year is crucial to the success of these students. As such, CVES will utilize Creative School Services and Frank Cunningham, Inc. to support staff in the design of CCLS-aligned curriculum and tasks, and The Danielson Group to support high-quality instruction. In order for these academic efforts to successfully translate into improved student outcomes, CVES will utilize the professional development from Ramapo for Children to help create a safe and supportive classroom and school environment. Additional school wide structural supports, such as common planning time and AIS instruction, will build staff capacity to effectively support these students.

C. School Model and Rationale

i. Model rationale and key school design elements.

Based on the Priority School's declining performance despite supports provided by the district, NYCDOE determined that the best option is to phase-out P.S. 385 Performance School and replace it with a new school that will better serve future students and the broader community. Outright closure of the Priority School is not feasible since there is no guarantee of seats at other schools for all the remaining students. By gradually phasing out one grade a time, the Priority School continues to provide its current students with the opportunity to graduate from the school until it closes down in June 2016. At the same time, as the change agent for the school site, P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School, will phase-in one grade at a time, prepared to address the challenges faced by the closing school under a new mission, leadership, and faculty.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

In order to strengthen the curriculum weakness areas, the school will assess which additional resources and strategies (for example appropriate-level text), for ELL students and Students with Disabilities will be effective. Teacher teams will meet to create effective lesson plans in terms of Depth of Knowledge questioning. Program schedules will be revised in order to afford opportunities for teachers to collaborate and share best practices.

Key Design Elements:

- Using the Charlotte Danielson framework rubric, students will increase engagement in accountable, evidence-based discussions. In addition, classroom teachers will increase targeted questioning in lessons.
- Classroom teachers will be expected to increase implementation of differentiation strategies for ELL students and Students with Disabilities as measured by analyzing teacher lesson plans and classroom observations by Administration and measured by the progressions of language rubrics.
- Independent reading time in the classroom will be increased and measured by classroom observations, lesson plans, and program schedules.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

As the Turnaround for the school site, CVES has placed significant focus on purchasing curriculum aids aligned to the common core such as Go Math, my World, and Interactive Science. Complex text samples from www.engageny.org and Common Core aligned texts from American Reading Company have been collected by the leader of CVES to support the reading and writing curriculum. Possible challenges will be aligning the instruction to the demands of the Common Core. However, this challenge will be addressed through key design elements:

Key Design Elements:

- Use of common core-aligned curriculum within ELA and Math
- Critical thinking skills embedded in all curricula
- A culture of improving best practices facilitated by quality professional development vendors and leadership

ii. Process for model selection and stakeholder engagement.

At the district level, a dedicated cross-divisional work group is in place to recommend whole school reform models for NYCDOE's 122 Priority Schools. The work group met weekly beginning in September 2012 to review school data points and alignment to one of the three intervention options: the School Improvement Grant plan, School Innovation Fund plan, or School Comprehensive Education Plan (SCEP) crosswalk.

In keeping with NYCDOE's strategy for turnaround, once the Priority School was approved to phase-out by the Panel for Educational Policy in March 2013 and a high-quality new school was similarly approved to replace it, the work group determined that the school site would be a good candidate for the Turnaround model. In April 2013, schools were officially notified about their eligibility to apply for the Turnaround model and began working on their applications. The School Improvement Grant application for Priority School was developed by the school leadership and key staff, consulting with the school's Children First Network, School Implementation Manager, and external partners as needed. For the phase-in school, the founding principal of the new school identified to replace the Priority School crafted a School Improvement Grant plan and met with the district-level union representative to share the plan in May 2013. The new school's plan was also shared with the district-level Chancellor's Parent Advisory Council.

D. School Leadership

i. Characteristics and core competencies sought for school principal

It is essential that both the phasing out school as well as its replacement Phase-in school are led by principals who are qualified to take on the challenges unique to each school.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The principal who will preside over P.S. 385 Performance School as it phases out must be someone who is prepared to motivate staff to continually improve their practice through a transitional period, while keeping acute focus on improving student outcomes.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

For the new school that will replace the Priority School, the leader must be able to articulate a coherent school vision that a) builds and maintains a positive school culture, b) builds a solid instructional core across classrooms, and c) creates supports and structures for development and continual improvement, all rooted in a deep commitment to students. In addition, the leader must demonstrate the capacity to build relationships and effectively collaborate with others.

ii. Principal's biography

As required under the Turnaround model, new leadership has been identified to drive the successful implementation of whole school change at this Priority School as it phases down.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Frank Hernandez will oversee the school as it phases down. Frank Hernandez grew up in the South Bronx and is a graduate from the New York City public school system. His experiences as a teacher's assistant, classroom teacher, mathematics coach, data specialist, and assistant principal has shaped his vision of educational leadership. Through his many roles in the school system, he has served as an instructional leader, supporting teachers in their professional development and fostering a culture of reflective practice. Mr. Hernandez has extensive experience in data-driven instruction and led school teams on inquiry work and instructional planning through data analyses. Along with his background, his approach to challenges with a problem-solving attitude and desire to be part of the solution has fueled his interest in leading Performance School. He is currently a Fordham University Graduate student pursuing a doctoral candidate degree in Urban Education.

The principal is committed to ensuring that students continue to have access to a full academic experience along with student support services.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The new principal who will lead the new school replacing the Priority School is Alexa Sorden. Alexa Sorden has been an educator in the Department of Education for the past 13 years. She started her career as an elementary school teacher, educating students in kindergarten through third grade. As a kindergarten teacher, she served as an exemplary model for District 6. Teachers from throughout the district regularly observed her instructional practice in an effort to refine their own craft. Soon after, she became a Literacy Coach, and for three years developed and enhanced a school-wide literacy curriculum for grades K-6. As Literacy Coach, she not only developed curriculum, she also mentored teachers, modeled lessons and conducted data analysis as the school's Data Specialist. In 2009, Ms. Sorden joined the Leadership Support Organization and became the Coordination for Early Intervention Services. In this role she supported twenty-five schools with curriculum development, instructional strategies to supports ELLs and SWDs as well as provided professional development. In 2010 As a result of her expertise she was offered a position as the 3-5 Assistant Principal in a struggling school in District 10. As an Assistant Principal, she supported teachers with developing effective classroom management systems and lesson planning and preparation. In 2011, she rejoined the LSO, which was now known as CFN 606 and worked as the Director of Student Achievement. In this role Mrs. Sorden concentrated on supporting seven schools with understanding the Common Core Learning Standards, the Danielson framework, and how to use both tools to provide rigorous instruction to promote student achievement. In her most recent position, Mrs. Sorden was asked to become the principal of a struggling school in District 4. Under her leadership, attendance has improved to 92.8% and OORS incidents have dropped more than 80%. As the instructional leader of the school, she has implemented daily common planning time, developed the curriculum, set school-wide expectations, and created a safe and nurturing environment for all children iii. Supporting leadership job description and duties aligned to the needs of the school

Working closely with the DOE's existing Cluster and Network Teams that support all schools, the School Implementation Manager serves as the project manager ensuring that schools and networks receive appropriate guidance, technical assistance, and coaching in order to improve outcomes for students and pedagogical practices through implementation of the identified intervention model. Among other responsibilities, the SIM is also responsible for managing the accountability structures put in place to assure ongoing monitoring and intervention in schools undertaking the intervention models, and are responsible for meeting federal reporting requirements related to schools' interim and summative performance.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

See attachment D for Assistant Principal job description and duties chart.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School: During the first few years of the school, it will not have an assistant principal position in place. The school's Children First Network, in collaboration with the School Implementation Manager, will work closely with the school to ensure implementation of its core instructional and student support elements under SIG.

iv. Current supporting leadership profile for model and strategies for plan buy-in

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The Principal and Assistant Principal will co-develop a formative assessment observation schedule and low-inference observation tool in order to conduct six to eight (6 to 8) rounds of informal observations across the 2012-2013 school year. They will discuss student data and student work in order to establish targeted next step instructional goals. These conversations will serve as the basis of formative observations and provide opportunities for targeted feedback. Teachers will be provided opportunities to self-assess based on selected domains and specific competencies within the domains vis-à-vis post-observation conferences and timely written feedback provided by the Principal and Assistant Principals.

In order to evaluate the effectiveness of this goal, teachers will serve as members of a collaborative team that communicates weekly with school leaders on the transparency of the process. This process will be seen as a tool that will support teacher practice and improve student performance. The reflective practice of teachers and school leaders will support individualized professional development focused on Danielson's priority competencies. Each teacher will complete a self-assessment and a post self-evaluation on the progress made throughout the year. Mid-year conversations will take place between teachers and administration to discuss trends and next steps as well as a plan to support their growth and development.

The assistant principal will support the principal with the following:

- Provide professional development on a new instructional framework that supports authentic literacy and college and career readiness.
- Individualized professional development plans for each teacher with delineated steps for progress and movement across the Danielson Framework will be provided to teachers using ARIS Learn.
- Instructional leads and consultants will facilitate professional development, lab sites, and inter-visitations to support teachers' professional development.
- Professional development sessions for teachers using the CCLS Library will integrate specific components of the Danielson Framework for Teaching (2011 Revised Edition) as a means for improving instructional practices and improving learning outcomes for all students.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

Leadership support will include the following personnel: principal, instructional coach, bilingual guidance counselor, intervention specialist, IEP/PBIS specialist, and a representative from each grade. Each member will be responsible for implementing the SIG plan, assessing its progress, and thoughtfully pursuing the improvement of student outcomes. For example, the IEP/PBIS specialist will serve a dual role, which will require supporting instruction and behavior management. The SIG plan focuses on creating a safe, nurturing, and academically stimulating environment therefore the IEP/PBIS specialist will focus on creating a safe, welcoming, and rigorous environment where all children can succeed. An instructional coach, to be hired/determined, will provide professional development, support best practices, model lessons, work alongside teachers, and track the plan's path to success.

E. Instructional Staff

i. Current school staff overview and changes needed for model

With the opening of a new replacement school and the shift in grades to be served at the Priority School's by start of the model implementation in September 2013, there will be key changes in the staffing needs at this school site.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Since this is a phase-out school, for the 2013-2014 school year, school staffing will consist of individuals who have the most seniority in the school. Many of these individuals have served in positions other than grades 3, 4 or 5 therefore it is critical that professional development be targeted to the specific needs of these teachers. The school leaders will commit to high quality training for these teachers so that they will provide students with the best education possible.

Teachers will be supported with designing effective lessons that must incorporate evidence of one or all of the identified teacher development competencies that support the implementation of the Common Core standards: (1e) Designing coherent instruction, (3b) Using questioning and discussion techniques and (3d) Using assessment in instruction.

Key staff will be identified to assist in the implementation of the instructional strategies/activities that support the development of standards based curriculum such as:

- Differentiation strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified student subgroups.
- Identifying targets to evaluate the progress, effectiveness, and impact of the strategies and activities. This will include involving teachers in decision-making on use of academic assessments.
- Creating meaningful timelines for implementation.
- Assisting to leverage key personnel and other critical resources to implement these strategies/activities,

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The 18D process will be used to hire experienced and knowledgeable personnel. P.S. 359 aims to acquire strong instructional leaders who are invested in student success. Weekly check-in meetings will focus on assessing plans to set and track goals. Scheduling time to consistently dialogue and gain staff input on strategies, assessing strategy effectiveness, and determining next steps frequently will keep staff engaged and focused on achieving student success.

P.S. 359 will strive to become an integrated co-teaching (ICT) model school and, as such, intends to have two teachers in every classroom. It is expected that with two exceptional teachers in every classroom the need for push-in and pull out services will be reduced. Grade 2 students will be looped with their teachers for the 2014-2015 school year. This plan requires hiring highly qualified upper grade teachers because they will be able to bring the rigor and independence needed to manage a 2nd grade classroom.

By start of the 2013-2014 school year, each school's faculty will be in place with the capacity to carry out the improvement initiatives described in this plan and serve the needs of the students.

ii. Characteristics and core competencies of instructional staff to meet student needs

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Since the school is phasing out and will consist of grades 3, 4 and 5, staffing will rely primarily on seniority basis. Leadership will identify key staff members who are strong in instruction so that they will support the goals of the school by facilitating teacher team meetings. Together teachers will look at student work and plan CCLS aligned units and lessons.

The Assistant Principal will maintain the collected CCLS-aligned units, lessons, and rubrics following the analysis of CCLS Math and ELA aligned tasks. In order to evaluate the effectiveness of this goal, teachers will meet to examine Common Core aligned student work and determine the implications for teaching and learning. Performance tasks will include multiple entry points to support all learners including students with disabilities and English Language Learners.

SETTS and ESL teachers will collaborate with the teachers of the students they are servicing so that articulation is seamless and transparent. The push-in model will be utilized wherever possible to provide coherency.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The entire school will have a critical role in implementing our SIG plan however the following individuals will serve as the point personnel for supporting the plan's success: instructional coach, intervention specialist, bilingual guidance counselor, and grade level representatives. The expectation is that each individual will support teachers with implementing strategies to achieve success. The point personnel will model, plan, co-teach, and mentor teachers through the process of meeting our goals. Through our weekly check-in meetings we'll be able to track our progress and revisit our plan as needed.

We will inform our staff of the model being implemented via SLT, cabinet meetings, and faculty conferences. In addition, we will share our detail action plan and review it with teachers sharing the expectation that holds all members responsible and accountable.

As a new school, Concourse Village Elementary School screens, selects, and hires through the 18D process as outlined in the NYCDOE/UFT Collective Bargaining Agreement.

iii. Process and action steps taken to inform existing instructional staff about model

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The new school is currently in the process of interviewing instructional staff (please see next question for more details). During this process, candidates are informed about the Turnaround model design where the new school is replacing the Priority School, and are invited by the new school to apply for available teaching and other staff positions.

iv. Formal hiring mechanisms for instructional staff, strategies to assign necessary staff

The process for hiring in a new or redesigned school includes staff selection by a personnel committee consisting UFT and NYCOE representatives. Article 18D of the UFT/NYCDOE contract outlines the process for staffing new or redesigned schools opening to replace Priority Schools. The 18D hiring process for new schools is outlined in the Collective Bargaining Agreement. The new school generally opens with one grade in middle or high school and up to three grades in elementary school. New staff must be added as the school adds a new grade cohort each year until the school reaches full scale. The 18D hiring process is used each year at the new school until the Priority School closes completely, thus ensuring formal screening and hiring of all instructional staff at the new school. Due to the phase-out and phase-in process, an accurate reading of staff turnover will be completed after two hiring cycles, or the fall of the phase-in school's second year.

At the phase-out school, a citywide "open market" staff hiring and transfer system is available every year from spring through summer that principals may use to identify school pedagogical staff seeking transfers as well as those who wish to specific vacancies or schools. Principals are thus able to recruit, screen, and select instructional staff new to their schools based on need. While principals have discretion over the schools' budget and staffing decisions, one barrier that schools may face are hiring restrictions set by the district for certain subject areas, grade levels, and titles or licenses. Exceptions are given in certain cases based on critical needs such as for high-need subject areas and new schools. Schools are also supported by the human resources directors from their networks on budgeting, recruiting and hiring procedures. In addition, all principals have access to online human resources portal for up-to-date data and activities related to talent management. Similarly, resources are available to instructional staff on recruitment fairs, workshops, school vacancies, transfer options, as well as professional development, citywide award programs, and leadership opportunities to promote staff retention.

F. Partnerships

i. Partner organizations working with school and their roles under SIG

P.S. 385 Performance School:

See attachment F for partnership chart.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

- Creative School Services (CSS): this organization will serve as the main source for in-house professional development. Literacy and mathematics consultant from CSS will work beside the instructional coach to develop curriculum, lesson plans, and common assessments.
- Ramapo for Children: Ramapo will support community/culture building and provide teachers with supports for dealing with disruptive behaviors and setting clear expectations.
- Education through Music (EtM): EtM will bring music to life at CVES. They will begin a violin program in the 1st grade and follow the cohort through 5th grade with the goal of developing a group of talented violists.
- Turnaround for Children (TfC): TfC will help create positive learning environments that foster healthy intellectual, social, and emotional growth in every student.
- Frank Cunningham, Inc.: Frank will provide support to enhance the math curriculum map so as to include common core alignment with performance tasks that will supplement the Go Math curriculum. In addition, he is proficient in the Standards for Mathematical Practice and the Instructional Shifts. With these tools, he will support and develop staff instructional methods. Lastly, while working with teachers he will focus on the following Danielson competencies (1e, 3b, 3c, and 3d) to complement the professional development received by The Danielson Group.

ii. Evidence of Partner Effectiveness Chart (Attachment C)

See Attachment C for each school.

iii. Partner accountability

P.S. 385 Performance School:

School leadership will monitor the success of all partnerships with consultants in collaboration with the Director of Edutire. Teacher observations and benchmarks will inform these evaluations and further direct next steps for ongoing support.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

We will develop a system for tracking progress. For example, teacher feedback, student work, and classroom observations will play a major role in assessing our partner's effectiveness/impact on our school community. If the services do not yield the expected outcomes we will revisit our decision and partner with an organization that will support our schools' needs.

G. Organizational Plan

i. Organizational chart

See attachment G for each school.

ii. Day-to-day operations under the school's structure

P.S. 385 Performance School:

With the principal and administrative cabinet team carrying the ultimate responsibility for the school, leadership will set forth a reflective structure to ensure the voices of all constituents are heard and that the efforts of all are focused on the three goals of this plan at the core of the school plan:

- To improve teacher effectiveness
- To improve instruction and student performance in ELA and math
- To engage all teachers in horizontal/vertical teacher teams

Included in the teachers and staff are literacy and math coaches, grade level leaders, guidance counselors. These valuable members of The Performance School community will work collaboratively in teams to ensure that inquiry, curriculum and RTI are strategically addressed and school performance is effectively monitored during the three year phase out. It is anticipated with the school programming that there will be multiple opportunities for collaborative teams to meet independently and collectively throughout the week and year.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

At the new school the cabinet, SLT, PD team, Grade Level Inquiry, and Teacher Teams will serve as groups for decision-making. These groups will serve as an integral part of the school community. They will make decisions based on student' needs as evidenced in ongoing formative and summative assessments. They will evaluate curriculum choices and make sound decisions based on which direction will yield the greatest impact on student learning.

Each group below will serve a role in our decision making process:

- SLT: this group will review the school as whole, they will be provided all the data collected from the other groups to evaluate, monitor, and plan to ensure a successful path. The path for success at Concourse Village Elementary School assumes students' at least on or above grade level, parents involved, teachers working collaboratively, and evidence of a safe and nurturing environment for all.
- PD team: this group will focus on delivering support geared toward enhancing professional craft. This group will develop its focus from the citywide instruction expectations along with classroom observations. A major focus will be on differentiating our professional development so that teachers are getting what they truly need to continue nurturing their instructional practice.
- Grade Level Inquiry and Teacher Teams: These groups will consist of teachers on the same grade level who focus on grade level data. They will use this data to assess and monitor academic program effectiveness and make decisions about what's working and what's not. Our goal is to consistently take pulse on academic and personal progress of students to ensure each child's needs are met. This information will be used to design targeted programs for students to support their long-term success.

The primary method for guiding professional growth will be the Danielson Framework. We will engage in 8 observations per teacher, per year; six informal (12-15 min snapshots) and 2 formal observations. The school principal will be solely responsible for the "official" observation process however will rely on the instructional coach to observe daily teacher practice and provide teachers with regular feedback geared toward consistently improving their craft. In addition, teachers will engage in inter-visitation sessions to observe one another through our "Professional Growth Partner" process; this process requires collaboration among teachers. In addition, this process will require teachers observe one another and provide feedback on a regular basis. The goal is for teachers to get into the habit of providing feedback while learning from one another in an effort to create a tight knit professional community.

iii. Annual professional performance review (APPR) process

Both schools will implement New York City's newly approved APPR plan for teachers beginning in the 2013-2014 school year. Central staff and the Network team will support them with training in the new system this summer. The schools may revise their plans for implementation as they better understand the new evaluation system, and all elements related to principal and teacher evaluation contained in this application will be consistent with the Commissioner of Education's determination and order dated June 1, 2013 regarding the NYC APPR, Education Law 3012-c, and NYSED regulations.

Beginning in the 2013-14 school year, teachers will select from one of two options during the Initial Planning Conference, to take place by no later than the last Friday in October: Option 1) 1 formal observation and a minimum of 3 informal observations or Option 2) A minimum of 6 informal observations. The formal observation will have a pre-observation conference where the teacher can provide up to 2 artifacts and/or a pre-observation conference form. The observation will be a full period and the teacher will be rated on the Danielson rubric. A post observation conference will be held within 20 days and a post observation report will be provided to the teacher and put into the file. Informal observations will be unannounced and a minimum of 15 minutes. Feedback will be provided after informal observations in person or using some other form of communication. A pre and post observation conference is not required, but a post observation report will be provided to the teacher and filed within 90 school days of the observation.

A summative End of Year Conference will take place between the last Friday in April and the first Friday in June. Teachers can provide artifacts for review/discussion at the Conference. Artifacts must be submitted no later than the last Friday in April. If the Principal needs more artifacts to rate a component, they must request them of the teacher. If the teacher does not provide, they will be scored as Ineffective (1) on that component. Teachers will be provided with forms including rubrics with evidence statements.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

During the 2012-13 school year, 07X385 introduced the 2012-2013 Citywide Instructional Expectations, which emphasize teacher development focused on supporting all students to meet the Common Core standards. The program, based on one overarching goal (A high-quality teacher in every classroom for every student), was fostered by high-quality support and ongoing professional development for all teachers. School level support was provided in partnership with network to deepen the understanding of teacher effectiveness. School administration supported teachers in the following areas:

- Curriculum & Instruction: Effective lessons must incorporate evidence of one or all of the identified teacher development competencies that support the implementation of the Common Core standards: (1e) Designing coherent instruction, (3b) Using questioning and discussion techniques and (3d) Using assessment in instruction.
- Professional Development: Provide professional development on a new instructional framework that supports authentic literacy and college and career readiness.
- Individualized professional development plans for each teacher with delineated steps for progress and movement across the Danielson Framework will be provided to teachers using ARIS Learn.
- Instructional leads and consultants will facilitate professional development, lab sites, and inter-visitations to support teachers' professional development.
- Professional development sessions for teachers using the CCLS Library will integrate specific components of the Danielson Framework for Teaching (2011 Revised Edition) as a means for improving instructional practices and improving learning outcomes for all students.
- Supervision: The Principal and Assistant Principals co-developed a formative assessment observation schedule and low-inference observation tool in order to conduct six to eight (6 to 8) rounds of informal observations across the 2012-2013 school year.
- The Principal and Assistant Principal discussed student data and student work in order to establish targeted next step instructional goals. These conversations will serve as the basis of formative observations and provide opportunities for targeted feedback.
- Teachers were provided opportunities to self-assess based on selected domains and specific competencies within the domains vis-à-vis post-observation conferences and timely written feedback provided by the Principal and Assistant Principals.

It is anticipated that components of this work will continue and deepen in the 2013-14 school year, consistent with the Commissioner of Education's determination and order dated June 1, 2013 regarding the NYC APPR, Education Law 3012-c, and NYSED regulations.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

07X359, will implement the Danielson framework as a tool to guide our professional growth. As noted previously, teachers will select from one of two options during the Initial Planning Conference. Option 1 is to receive 1 formal observation and a minimum of 3 informal observations; Option 2 is to receive a minimum of 6 informal observations. I will be solely responsible for the "official" observation process however I will rely on my instructional coach to observe daily teacher practice and provide teachers with regular feedback geared toward consistently improving their professional craft. In addition, teachers will engage in inter-visitations sessions to observe one another's craft through our "Professional Growth Partner" process, which requires teacher to work together in partnership toward perfecting the art of effective teaching. This process will require that teachers observe one another and give feedback on a regular basis. The goal is for teachers to get into the habit of providing feedback while learning from one another in an effort to create a tight knit professional community.

iv. Calendar of events for the 2013-2014 school year

The Central 2013-14 Teacher Evaluation and Development timeline is provided in attachment T. Overall, Initial Planning Conferences will occur in the early Fall and Summative End of Year Conference will occur by June 27. Measures of Teacher Practice will occur between the Initial Planning Conference and the first Friday in June. Both schools will select local measures of student learning by September 9, and pre-tasks for NYC performance tasks and 3rd party assessments will occur by October 15. Please refer to attachment T for further detail. As discussed in section iii, both schools will implement the NYCDOE's newly approved APPR plan for teachers beginning in the 2013-2014 school year. The schools may revise their plans for implementation as they better understand the new evaluation system, and all elements related to principal and teacher evaluation contained in this application will be consistent with the Commissioner of Education's determination and order dated June 1, 2013 regarding the NYC APPR, Education Law 3012-c, and NYSED regulations.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

School 07X385's tentative calendar is provided in attachment G. and as discussed above may be revised to align to the Central calendar provided in attachment T. Final schedule will depend on teacher Initial Planning Conference.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

School 07X359's tentative calendar is provided below, and as discussed above may be revised to align to the Central calendar provided in attachment T. Final schedule will depend on teacher Initial Planning Conference.

Tentative Calendar:

- September-January 3 informal and 1 formal, per teacher; or minimum 6 informal per teacher.

- February-June-3 informal and 1 formal, per teacher; or minimum 6 informal per teacher.
- Weekly PD sessions geared toward enhancing professional practice as per addressing school goals as well as needs as per observations. This time will come from our extended day requirement, which we will use year one to strengthen our professional practice.
- 4-week PD cycle focusing on Danielson-1e, 2b, and 2d (connected to Quality Review)
- 6-week PD cycle focusing on 1e, 3b, 3c, and 3d (connected to Quality Review)
- Network PD (bi-monthly sessions)
- Weekly Book Study meetings focused on questioning and discussion (we're engaging in a yearlong book study in an effort to strengthen our questioning and discussion skills so that our teachers make it a habit of asking questions that get students to think deeply across content areas)

H. Educational Plan

Both the phasing out Priority School and the phasing in new school are committed to providing educationally sound programs for all of their students each year. The educational plans described below articulates how the Priority School will ensure that it continues to strengthen its programs and offerings to students each year until it closes, and how the replacement school launches a new, comprehensive programming at the school site, geared toward the needs of its student community.

i. Curriculum

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The Performance School will adopt The Pearson School English Language Arts Curriculum team who has partnered with the New York City Department of Education to develop ReadyGEN to address the ELA Common Core Standards.

To help ensure the successful implementation of ReadyGEN, Pearson along with the NYC DOE will provide a comprehensive learning pathway for all teachers implementing ReadyGEN. The professional development plan for ReadyGEN is designed to provide teachers with the ability to leverage ReadyGEN curricula resources to affect instructional change in the classroom.

ReadyGEN:

- engages students with complex text and its academic language through the use of units of study designed around text sets at each grade level
- asks students to extract and employ evidence from text, and use text sets to understand evidence within and across texts to support writing to sources
- builds content knowledge through theme based units of study that balance literary and informational text

- exposes students to narrative, informative, and opinion/argument writing so that they can successfully cite evidence in all genres through Writing Workshop

The Performance School will also adopt the Go Math program that was incorporated into Core Curriculum. In addition, SED is producing curriculum that will be complete by December 2013 and posted on EngageNY.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

CVES will open with PreK through 2nd grade. The following is the curriculum we have selected across content areas:

- Go Math: Go Math is a focused program designed to meet the objectives and intent of the Common Core State Standards for Mathematics. GO Math has been specifically written to provide thorough coverage of the CCSS with an emphasis on depth of instruction. Particular attention was given to providing support for teachers as they transition to a focused, rigorous curriculum. These efforts are apparent in the manner in which lessons begin with context-based situations and progress toward more abstract problems. Students and teachers are supported as they advance from concrete to abstract content through the use of models and math talk prompts presented in the Student Editions, and sample questions provided in the Teachers Editions. The program is designed so that teachers can easily create the environments necessary for teaching the CCSS Mathematics with depth and without having to develop new materials.
- myWorld: MyWorld Social Studies utilizes storytelling to bring Social Studies content to life. The interactive digital solution makes Social Studies personal for every student in a way that's easier for you. With myWorld Social Studies, we'll be able to get to the heart of Social Studies. myWorld Social Studies connects Social Studies content and literacy instruction with materials that are streamlined, flexible and attuned to today's classroom. There's an innovative digital component, which is seamlessly integrated, providing a blended program that is engaging, effective and easy to use
- Pearson's Interactive Science:
This program follows three approaches to learning about science:
  - 1) Reading: Innovative write-in student edition allows students to get all of the content, interactivity, and practice they need between the covers of a single book.
  - 2) Inquiry: Features a variety of hands-on and minds-on inquiry options to keep all your students engaged. From directed, to scaffold practice, to full inquiry, there are options to meet the way you teach and the time you have for labs.
  - 3) Digital: Features a complete online digital course at MyScienceOnline.com where teachers can set up and manage their class and where students can interact online with active art simulations, directed virtual labs, animated art, and get extra help.

- Reading & Writing: P.S. 359 has developed a reading and writing curriculum that follows the CCLS. It uses the common core to develop tasks and plan modules aligned to the final performance tasks. CVES has vetted this curriculum using the rubric used by Senior Common Core Fellows to ensure the modules are aligned to the common core and the instructional shifts.
- Fountas and Pinnell Leveled Literacy Intervention (LLI): LLI is a small-group, supplementary literacy intervention designed to help teachers provide powerful, daily, small-group instruction for the lowest achieving students at their grade level. Through systematically designed lessons and original, engaging leveled books, LLI supports learning in both reading and writing, helps students expand their knowledge of language and words and how they work. The goal of LLI is to bring students to grade level achievement in reading.

ii. Instruction

P.S. 385 Performance School:

In order to improve teacher instructional practice, school leaders will continue to implement Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Teaching to ensure the instructional strategies are used in core courses and common-branch subjects in the context of the 6 instructional shifts for Mathematics and 6 instructional shifts for ELA. The plan to accelerate learning in academic subjects by making meaningful improvements to the quality and quantity of instruction will be through consistent frequent formative classroom observations. These observations will provide teachers with specific and timely feedback as well as accompanying professional development to support improved practice in the following identified competencies: (1e) Designing coherent instruction, (3b) Using questioning and discussion techniques and (3d) Using assessment in instruction. This effort coupled with planning opportunities for teacher teams to collaborate will foster meaningful improvements in school quality and quantity of instruction.

In addition, Tequipment will train and certify all teachers on the use of smart boards. They will provide professional development which creates a sustainable model for the use and integration of technology throughout the instructional process.

To round out this professional development, additional instruction will be made available to the students. After school academies that occur during the week, on Saturdays, and during holiday weeks will be structured to provide additional opportunities for students to meaningfully access academic subjects.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

We will use the instructional shifts to implement the teaching expectations into each module's instructional outline. We will deliver our instruction using the workshop model and will utilize the components of balanced literacy to develop strong readers and writers. Additionally, we will implement the same model to address mathematics. We believe literacy is embedded throughout all content areas. However, an area we want to strengthen is our students' mathematical fluency. Therefore, we will look closely at the shifts to make decisions about our instructional practice. As we implement our professional development plan and engage in the observation cycle we will look for the instructional shifts in our daily instruction.

iii. Use of Time

P.S. 385 Performance School:

School Systems/Processes are as follows:

- All 3rd - 5th graders will participate in Extended Day.
- Two 5th grade classes will be departmentalized (ELA/SS and Math/Science).
- Mid to high level 2 students will participate in an Enrichment CCLS aligned after school program in enhance students' performance and progress levels.
- Saturday Academy will commence in January 2014 for remediation.
- RTI in mathematics will be provided to students in select 3rd - 5th grade classes.
- Service providers including SETSS, ESL, and speech teachers will push-in to the classroom to provide additional support to students.

See attachment H for sample schedule.

This schedule makes provisions for:

- The integration of academics, enrichment, and skill development through hands-on experiences that make learning relevant and engaging;
- A range of activities that capture student interest and strengthen student engagement in learning so as to promote higher attendance, reduce retention risk or number of drop outs, and increases the likelihood of graduation;
- The learning needs and interests of all types of students; especially those who may benefit from approaches and experiences not offered in the traditional classroom setting;
- Including design elements that improve student academic, social, and emotional outcomes; including opportunities for enrichment programs such as in music and art;
- Delivery of instruction in any core academic subject is offered in the program under the supervision of a teacher who is NYS certified in that particular content area.

Before/after-school programs and Saturday academies; sessions offered during school breaks; summer school; summer programs including bridge programs; summer school; etc. are provided for enrichment, skill development,

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The anticipated schedule for the school (see below) allows for the combination of periods to facilitate block scheduling of ELA and Math periods. Concurrently, the schedule allows for block scheduling of cluster periods so instructional staff have extended periods of time to co-plan, look at student work, or attend professional development.

Bell Schedule

1. 8:45-9:40
2. 9:40-10:25
3. 10:25-11:15
4. 11:20-12:15 LUNCH
5. 12:20-1:10
6. 1:15-2:05
7. 2:10-3:05

iv. Data-Driven Instruction/Inquiry (DDI)

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Methods for data-driven instruction are as follows:

- The Acuity periodic assessments will be administered 3X a year with feedback to students and parents/guardians for 3rd through 5th grade students.
- Students in 3rd through 5th grade will be assessed every 6 weeks to measure performance and progress in mathematics performance and progress every 6 weeks to measure students ELA/ Fountas and Pinnell reading level in fluency and comprehension.
- Common planning time on grade level and across grade bands, as well as Inquiry teams, will allow adequate time for analysis and lesson planning adjustments.
- Additional PD will be made available to support teachers in DDI

PD provisions mentioned in previous sections will address the DDI needs of staff

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

Data-Driven Instruction is crucial to the CVES school model's success. The data gathered will inform us of what's working and what areas need additional support. The ELA curriculum has formative assessments embedded along with end of module assessments. These assessments will take place at the end of the module in reading and writing. There will be six end of module assessments. In addition, P.S. 359 will engage in running record assessments formally two times per year to assess students' reading level and make decisions about reading groups. However, teachers will have weekly conference notes to make decisions about students' reading progress. Running records may be conducted for students who are struggling and need to make rapid improvement. In mathematics we will conduct end of module assessments to measure students' understanding of the concepts taught. We will have an assessment calendar with pre-selected days to review the data and make decisions about students' academic progress.

v. Student Support

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Student supports at the priority school will include the following:

- Instruction: Teachers will support students' social and emotional development across the content areas by providing multiple entry points for students including students with disabilities. Building on work started in January 2013, students will continue to explore Costa's Habit of Mind. Students will self-reflect to identify and monitor their progress towards mastery of each habit. Data: Teachers will collect and analyze summative assessment data according to AYP subgroup. Teachers will implement Tier I, Response to Intervention in order to minimize the number of referrals to the Pupil Personnel Team.
- Pupil Personnel Team: PPT committee members include school psychologists (monolingual & bilingual), speech providers, social worker, a SETSS and IEP teacher, family workers, and administrators. The PPT will meet bi-weekly in order to discuss initial referrals as well as monitor the progress of students with IEP's. Recommended students will receive at-risk services for the duration of 6 weeks to monitor students' performance and progress. PPT members will use the Pre-Referral Intervention Manual to develop a common language and provide meaningful feedback to teachers.
- ASTOR Services for Children and Families: P.S. 385 will continue their pre-existing partnership with ASTOR (a free Community Based Organization) to support social and emotional health. A school-wide initiative will take place to screen students in grades 3 through 5 to determine eligibility for additional testing to support students' social and emotional development. ASTOR services will be extended to entire families to ensure developmental health on a community level. Given the need, a satellite clinic will be established in our school to provide on-site monitoring of students social and emotional needs.
- Instruction: Teachers will support students' social and emotional development across the content areas by providing multiple entry points for students including students with disabilities. Building on work started in January 2013, students will continue to explore Costa's Habits of Mind. Students will self-reflect to identify and monitor their progress towards mastery of each habit. Performance school will also use the Response to Intervention model to serves it's at-risk students.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

Student support at CVES will be facilitated through the bilingual guidance counselor, IEP/PBIS specialist, and parent coordinator to ensure all students are in school every day. The counselor, IEP/PBIS specialist, and parent coordinator will be on the attendance team. Student attendance is crucial and those who are absent and/or late will raise a red flag and will require one-to-one attention, along with parent check-in meetings. Furthermore, students exhibiting emotional stress, and academic failure will receive targeted support and an action plan will be developed to assess the students' response to the intervention. CVES will have access to the services of Turnaround for Children, an organization with a proven track record of helping teachers motivate students in the classroom.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The phase in school will offer the following supports:

- After school support will be offered to the lowest performing third of students on Wednesday and Thursday, with 90 minutes of targeted instruction in reading and mathematics.
- Test Prep Saturdays will target all second grade students and focus on them on the art of testing; 3 hours focused on reading and mathematics beginning April 2014.
- Summer School will be offered to first and second grade students who are struggling with reading, writing, and mathematics from July 8th-31st.
- Enrichment will be provided to students who are performing well and want to participate in academic activities playwriting and performance via 90 minutes of readers' theater July 8th-31st.

As the school grows to full scale, it will aim to use extended time to increase the school day by 30 minutes for students in 3rd grade and above (pending SBO vote). This time would be used to facilitate small group instruction and provide targeted instruction with a focus on closing the achievement gap from September 2014-June 2015.

vi. School Climate and Discipline

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Performance School is committed to collaboration and achieving their goals. They aim to foster a respectful teaching and learning community where school leaders, teachers, students, and families support each other in improving student performance.

P.S. 385 is also committed to building a school environment where all members of the school community respect the physical and emotional safety of its members. The disciplinary approach of the school will support children to internalize those values and integrate behaviors that reflect these skills.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The previously mentioned, IEP/PBIS specialist will lead the efforts to promote a safe and orderly school environment. School rubrics will indicate the expectations, parents will be informed, and students will abide by "Our Community Expectations." P.S. 359 aims to become a responsive school where positive communication and behavior are promoted. We will distribute "POWER" dollars every time a class or a student is caught meeting or exceeding our school-wide expectations. In addition, all classrooms will have our POWER points system to promote student collaboration as well as to hold students responsible and accountable for their behavior. For example, groups will earn POWER points for working together, following the agreements, completing their work, and being prepared (etc...). The groups with the most points at the end of each month will earn a special prize such as lunch with the teacher, lunch with the principal, an educational trip, or movie tickets (etc...). This initiative is intended to motivate students to work together as a team until it becomes habit.

vii. Parent and Community Engagement

P.S. 385 Performance School:

To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

- actively involve and engage parents in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the Comprehensive Educational Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent involvement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in our Parent Involvement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Committee. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional development, especially in developing leadership skills;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening; to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed;
- conduct an Annual Title I Parent Fair/Event where all parents are invited to attend formal presentations and workshops that address their student academic skill needs and what parents can do to help.

To increase Parents, Families and Community Engagement:

- Parents will be provided with workshops to better understand the CCLS, ELA and the Standards for Mathematical Practice.
- Parents will be provided with workshops to better understand text features and characteristics at each independent reading level.
- Parents will be provided with strategies to support literacy at home.
- ARIS parent link to monitor student performance and progress.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

Incorporating parents and community members into school-based planning and shared decision-making will occur in the following ways:

- School Leadership Team (SLT): Parents in the SLT will be selected to represent multiple students in the school such as students with disabilities, ELLs, and general education.
- Parent Teacher Association (PTA): The PTA will contribute to decision-making that concern school safety and student enrichment opportunities.
- Literacy and Math Workshops: Parents will be encouraged to participate in a six-session workshop series focused on promoting literacy and mathematics.
- Positive Relationship Workshops: Parents will be encouraged to participate in three workshop sessions on developing positive relationships with their children. Our goal is to cultivate responsive parents.
- Learning Leaders (LL): The LL program will work with families through school day and after school volunteer opportunities to help integrate them into the school community.
- Family Night: CVSE will host family night three times throughout the school year, to engage students and their families in educational games and provide information to parents so they can be more connected with the school community.

I. Training, Support, and Professional Development

To ensure that each school's staff is prepared and receiving on-going support for implementing the educational plan, the Priority School and its replacement new school will have professional development events tailored to each school's needs.

i. School leadership/staff involvement in SIG plan development

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Subsequent to District 7 Community Superintendent meetings, the School Leadership Team, staff, and parents and network representatives met to discuss what is working at The Performance School, what needs to be improved, and how the community can work together to better serve students. AS a result of this year long conversation, this plan was developed by school and network staff.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

Currently, the network and planning committee have supported the development of this plan. I have reviewed the phase out school's data and made attempts to foresee the needs based on schools' past performance. Furthermore, the new school leadership has researched methods used by successful schools in an effort to implement research-based strategies.

ii. Year One Implementation Period (September 1, 2013, to August 31, 2014).

See attachment I for professional development events in year one of implementation for each school.

iii. Plan for training, support and professional development

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The priority school schedule/plan for training, support, and professional development is as follows:

- August 2013: summer planning
- Sept 2013 Data analysis/needs assessment
- October, 2013: planning and goal setting
- November, 2013-ongoing: network support and school implementation
- March, 2014-ongoing: MY benchmark assessment and mid-year goal evaluation and revision;
- June 2014-ongoing: year-end review and assessment

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

Targeted goals for 2013-2014 are explicit modeling, shared reading and questioning, as well as classroom discussion. Professional development sessions will address each targeted goal. P.S. 359 will evaluate the goals during the classroom observation process, review of student work, and teacher's lesson plans.

The professional development sessions will be embedded into the schedule via the weekly after school meetings that will take the place of extended day requirement. Teachers will meet for 75-minute increments, two times per week. They will use this time to look at student work and participate in PD tailored to meeting the needs of the school via classroom observations and student data. Support will be based on the three instructional priorities mentioned above.

J. Communication and Stakeholder Involvement/Engagement

i. Method of regularly updating school stakeholders on SIG plan implementation

The NYCDOE and the Priority School fully and transparently consulted and collaborated with education stakeholders about the school's Priority status and on the implementation of the SIG plan. Upon designation of the school as a Priority School by the New York State Education Department in August 2012, the NYCDOE sent letters to superintendents, clusters school support staff, and principals about the school's Priority School designation.

Principals were provided with letter templates to send to parents with the instructions that families must be notified of the school's Priority status within 30 days of the State's designation. Principals were also invited to two different meetings with Senior Deputy Chancellors Shael Suransky and Marc Sternberg on August 31, 2012, to learn more about the school's Priority status, intervention model options, and next steps for the NYCDOE and school. Superintendents, clusters, networks school support staff, and principals participated in trainings on the ESEA waiver and Priority status to turn-key the information to stakeholders. NYCDOE staff also presented the information directly at information on state accountability designations and implications during Community Education Council meetings, a meeting of the Panel on Education Policy, and other community meetings.

As the Priority School developed its School Improvement Grant, it was required to consult and collaborate with its stakeholders, including leaders from the principals' union, teachers' union, and parent groups. The NYCDOE asked schools to submit Attachment A, the consultation and collaboration form, in addition to doing district-level consultation and collaboration, with leaders in the following groups: Council of Supervisors & Administrators (CSA; principals' union), United Federation of Teachers (UFT; teachers' union), Chancellor's Parent Advisory Committee (CPAC; NYCDOE parent leadership body). By doing so, the NYCDOE sought to ensure that consultation and collaboration took place at the school-level in addition to the district-level. When it was brought to the attention of the NYCDOE that further school-level consultation and collaboration efforts needed to be made, the NYCDOE extended the deadline for submission of Attachment A and provided additional guidance to schools to ensure appropriate consultation and collaboration took place prior to submission of the SIG plan.

The Priority School will continue to regularly update stakeholders on the implementation of the SIG plan. The SIG plan will be an agenda item for discussion in the monthly School Leadership Team meetings, the shared decision-making body of the school, along with typically monthly Parent Teacher Association or other parent group meetings. In addition, the school will provide a letter to families and other stakeholders about the status of the school's SIG plan upon the start of the 2013-14 school year and annually thereafter. The NYCDOE will provide the Priority School with a letter template to utilize, similar to the school's designation as a Priority School.

P.S. 385 Performance School:

The NYCDOE and the Priority School fully and transparently consulted and collaborated with education stakeholders about the school's Priority status and on the implementation of the SIG plan. Upon designation of the school as a Priority School by the New York State Education Department in August 2012, the NYCDOE sent letters to superintendents, clusters school support staff, and principals about the school's Priority School designation.

Principals were provided with letter templates to send to parents with the instructions that families must be notified of the school's Priority status within 30 days of the State's designation. Principals were also invited to two different meetings with Senior Deputy Chancellors Shael Suransky and Marc Sternberg on August 31, 2012, to learn more about the school's Priority status, intervention model options, and next steps for the NYCDOE and school. Superintendents, clusters, networks school support staff, and principals participated in trainings on the ESEA waiver and Priority status to turn-key the information to stakeholders. NYCDOE staff also presented the information directly at information on state accountability designations and implications during Community Education Council meetings, a meeting of the Panel on Education Policy, and other community meetings.

As the Priority School developed its School Improvement Grant, it was required to consult and collaborate with its stakeholders, including leaders from the principals' union, teachers' union, and parent groups. The NYCDOE asked schools to submit Attachment A, the consultation and collaboration form, in addition to doing district-level consultation and collaboration, with leaders in the following groups: Council of Supervisors & Administrators (CSA; principals' union), United Federation of Teachers (UFT; teachers' union), Chancellor's Parent Advisory Committee (CPAC; NYCDOE parent leadership body). By doing so, the NYCDOE sought to ensure that consultation and collaboration took place at the school-level in addition to the district-level. When it was brought to the attention of the NYCDOE that further school-level consultation and collaboration efforts needed to be made, the NYCDOE extended the deadline for submission of Attachment A and provided additional guidance to schools to ensure appropriate consultation and collaboration took place prior to submission of the SIG plan.

Transparency and communication will be critical to ensuring successful implementation of the SIG plan. The table below outlines methods, times, and places that will be used for regularly and systematically updating parents, families, the community, and other stakeholders on the implementation of the SIG plan.

See attachment J for methods of regularly updating stakeholders on the priority school SIG plan.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The School Leadership Team will meet to devise a parent presentation regarding the implementation of the SIG plan. These meetings will direct the creation of quarterly reports, which will be shared with families via community town hall meetings. The quarterly reports will illustrate the progress benchmarks, strategies, and progress toward achieving the school goals. At full scale, P.S. 359 will have accumulated testing data, which will represent our growth as a school. Testing data will be shared regularly with parents in presentations and working groups to show areas of strength, need, and add context to next steps.

K. Project Plan and Timeline

The project plans and timelines for the Priority School and new school, including their respective major goals and strategies for each year of the Turnaround model implementation, are described below.

i. Goals and key strategies for Year One implementation period (September 1, 2013, to August 31, 2014)

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Through this proposed model, it is expected that the following 3 goals are achieved by the end of the first year of implementation of this plan:

Goal 1:

To improve teacher effectiveness, with meaningful, formative feedback and next steps from short, frequent cycles of formative classroom observations and the formal observation process.

Key Strategies for Goal 1:

- The Principal and Assistant Principals will co-develop a formative assessment observation schedule and low-inference observation tool in order to conduct six to eight (6 to 8) rounds of informal observations across the 2013-2014 school year.
- The Principal and Assistant Principals will meet to discuss qualitative data from observation reports and revise professional development plan as necessary.
- Teachers will be provided opportunities to self-assess based on selected domains and specific competencies within the domains vis-à-vis post-observation conferences and timely written feedback provided by the Principal and Assistant Principals.

Goal 2:

Improve Reading and Math Instruction by implementing rigorous, standards based, reading/writing, and math curriculum that aligns to the new Common Core State Standards and results in an improvement in student performance on the New York State ELA and Math exams.

Key Strategies for Goal 2:

- In order to track the performance of students in ELA and Mathematics, an assessment schedule will be published for the teachers to follow. Benchmark, diagnostic, formative and summative assessments will be part of the collection process.
- Teacher teams will work alongside school leaders and modify units of study to provide multiple entry points for students.
- Teacher teams will design pre- and post-performance tasks that may be used to assess progress on ELA and mathematics, with support from school leaders.
- Students will set monthly goals based on the data they receive about their performance.

Goal 3:

Engage all teachers in horizontal/vertical teacher teams with the focus of studying the significance of our school-wide emphasis on the instructional shifts in reading, writing and math.

Key Strategies for Goal 3:

- Teacher teams and school leaders will guide teacher review of student work and other assessments to make instructional decisions. Once a week teachers will review formative data and once every four to six weeks they will review periodic assessments. School leaders will also provide PD related to setting instructional goals based on data provided to the school-wide team once or twice per month. Additionally, summative assessments will be part of the collection process.
- Teacher teams will work alongside school leaders to modify units of study and provide multiple entry points for students.
- Teacher teams will design pre- and post-performance tasks that may be used to assess progress on ELA and mathematics, with support from school leaders.

- Students will set monthly goals based on the data they receive about their performance.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

- Shared Reading: This instructional approach in which the teacher explicitly models the strategies and skills of proficient/fluent readers. This method exposes children to complex texts, develops fluency, and implementing reading strategies that develop meaning. Shared reading will be the established literacy model for how to ask and answer questions to better understand what we read.
- Questioning & Discussion: Questioning and discussion will be a primary focus of the new school; for lesson retention, research indicates that asking questions is second only to lecturing. Teachers will spend 35-50% percent of instructional time spent asking questions. To guide question and discussion practice, teachers will consider how effective the questions in raised during lessons are for student achievement. Additionally, teachers will be pressed to improve the rigor of their student posed questions using current educational research provided by consultants and leadership.
- Explicit Modeling: Through this approach teachers will focus on the importance of explicitly modeling what is expected so that students have a clear picture of set expectations. Students have a better opportunity to meet or exceed expectations when those expectations are messaged and modeled clearly. When teachers explicitly model and the student persist in struggling, teachers can more easily dig deeper to the cause of the gap.
- Positive School Culture: Creating a safe and nurturing environment will support our vision of developing a strong community. With the use of PBIS in place P.S. 359 will support positive behavior and unite our community by strengthening our shared mission to want to succeed academically and personally.

ii. “Early wins” as early indicators of a successful SIG plan

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Early wins will serve as early indicators of a successful SIG plan implementation, increased buy-in, and support between September and December. Some of these early wins include:

- Increase in reading levels: An increase in reading levels will be an indicator of the effectiveness of our reading practices (as we plan on offering various interventions to address students: i.e. Guided Reading, Leveled Literacy Intervention) across the grades. This data will be gleaned through developmental reading assessments, which include fluency and comprehension analysis.

- Increase in writing performance: Increased writing performance will be an indicator that our units of study are helping students to become proficient writers. To determine growth, we will conduct a comparison of student growth on pre- and post-performance tasks.
- Increase in math performance: Increased math performance will be an indicator that our units of study are helping students to become proficient mathematicians. To determine growth, we will conduct a comparison of student growth on pre- and post-performance tasks.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School: At Concourse Village Elementary School, early wins will be evidenced by frequent cycles of observation that will demonstrate students engaged in discussions that promote their thinking. Another early win will be vibrant classrooms where students feel safe and nurtured by loving educators who want to see them succeed. These early wins will lead to hard data indicating student progress from one module to the next. We will use our assessment data specifically tracking writing to assess students' progress. We will also use the data to measure the impact our instruction is having on student learning.

iii. Leading indicators of success to be examined at least quarterly

P.S. 385 Performance School:

Data indicators that will be analyzed no less than a quarterly basis are listed below:

- Increase in reading/phonemic awareness levels: An increase in reading levels will be an indicator of the effectiveness of our reading practices across the grades. This data will be gleaned through developmental reading assessments, which include fluency and comprehension analysis. Teachers will create charts that reflect performance level and growth, as well as detail on specific reading and phonics and phonemic awareness strands. The teachers will receive a copy of their data report. Teacher teams will review data alongside school leaders. The principal will have monthly one-on-one meetings with each teacher, who will identify instructional strategies that will be used to address specific areas of need and to identify instructional goals for the month. Students and parents will receive print outs of performance charts. In addition, students will set monthly goals based on the data provided.
- Increase in writing performance: Increased writing performance will be an indicator that our units of study are helping students to become proficient writers. To determine growth, we will conduct a comparison of student growth on pre- and post-performance tasks. Teacher teams design pre- and post-assessments for each writing unit and create graphs that indicate areas of strength, need, and growth. Teachers will make decisions about how to revise the curriculum based upon this data. The principal will have monthly one-on-one meetings with each teacher, who will identify instructional strategies that will be used to address specific areas of need and to identify instructional goals for the month. Students and parents will receive print outs of performance charts. In addition, students will set monthly goals based on the data provided.

- Increase in math performance: Increased math performance will be an indicator that our units of study are helping students to become proficient mathematicians. To determine growth, we will conduct a comparison of student growth on pre- and post-performance tasks in the same method that will be applied to collect school wide data on writing performance. See above.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

The phase in school will examine leading indicators of success on a quarterly basis. The data will consist of writing performance tasks, running record, and math performance tasks. These activities will be analyzed by classroom teachers, instructional coach, and intervention specialist. The findings will be shared with the School Leadership Team. This data will be used to plan effective next steps in terms of our curriculum and professional development support.

iv. Goals and key strategies for Year Two and Year Three of implementation

P.S. 385 Performance School:

As the phase out school, goals for years 2 and 3 will continue build in scope from one year to the next. Through this proposed model, it is expected that the following 3 goals are achieved by the end of the second year of implementation of this plan:

1. Teacher effectiveness: At least 60% of the teachers will be "effective according to Danielson's Framework based on frequent cycles of formative classroom observations and the formal observation process.
2. Student Achievement: Students will show increased proficiency in ELA and Mathematics. At least 45% of all students will show an increase of at least one performance level on the reading, writing, and math assessments, as compared from benchmark assessment at the beginning of the year compared to the end of the year using a Common Core aligned curriculum in ELA and Mathematics.
3. Teacher Teams: All teacher teams will meet 45 – 90 minutes a week to enhance teaching and learning opportunities as well as implement standards based curriculum.

P.S. 359 Concourse Village Elementary School:

As a growing school and for continuity, the goals of CVES will be the same throughout the duration of the SIG period. Once these original goals have been sustainably achieved at each grade level, new goals will be assessed. This school will reach full scale in September 2016 and with each cohort of teachers, P.S. 359 will aim to tighten the planned school systems. The phase in school acknowledges that developing curriculum may take years to master and that teaching is to at a priority site is often complex. To aid faculty in these challenges, the school is committed to ongoing professional development and targeted support that will ensure our goals and result in the high student achievement.

Attachment B MEMO: School-level Baseline Data and Target-Setting Chart Methodology Used for Data

This memo explains the methodology used to determine the district average, school baseline, and/or school targets for indicators in Attachment B. Notes are also given for indicators where schools are unable to set targets at this time.

- a. Number of minutes in the school year: The school's baseline data for 2010-11 was determined based on the number of instructional days in the school year and the minimum required daily instructional time (5 hours for grades 1-6 and 5.5 hours for grades 7-12).
- b. Student participation in State ELA assessment
- c. Student participation in State Math assessment
- d. Drop-out rate
- e. Student average daily attendance: Calculation based on aggregate of days students were present divided by days present + absent for school year 2010-11.
- f. Student completion of advanced coursework: High Schools: This includes Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate, college-credit courses, etc.
- g. Suspension rate: Represents the number of suspensions as reported to SED (School Report Card) divided by the number of students enrolled in 2010-11.
- h. Number of discipline referrals: Represents total count of Level 3-5 incidents in 2010-11
- i. Truancy rate: K-8: Aggregate number of students absent 30% or more divided by register.
High Schools: Aggregate number of students absent 50% or more in 9-12 divided by register.
- j. Teacher attendance rate: Calculated based on 2010-2011 school year:  $1 - (\text{total absent days} / \text{total active days})$

Absent days: defined as total of time teachers were reported to be absent for discretionary reasons (personal, sick, and grace period) during 2010-2011 school year. Excludes school holidays and weekends, or when teachers were otherwise not required to report to school.

Active days: defined as all days where teachers were to report to school based on DOE school calendar (excludes school holidays, snowdays, and weekends) where they were in the title of teacher, and were not on leave or sabbatical.

- k. Teachers rated as "effective" and "highly effective": Data for percentage of teachers rated "Effective" and "Highly Effective" (HEDI categories) does not exist for all schools at this time. Please note that targets will be set for teacher ratings once the new evaluation system is underway. All elements related to teacher evaluation will be consistent with the Commissioner of Education's determination and order dated June 1, 2013 regarding the NYC APPR, Education Law 3012-c, and NYSED regulations."
- l. Hours of professional development to improve teacher performance
This may include the following types of professional development activities:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PD to implement Common Core-aligned curriculum, including specific curricular programs (e.g., core curriculum adoptions)</li> <li>• PD to build a shared understanding of Danielson's Framework for Teaching and develop a shared picture of effective teaching</li> <li>• PD to understand the new system of teacher evaluation and development</li> <li>• PD to implement Response to Intervention (RTI)</li> <li>• PD for teachers working with English Language Learners</li> <li>• PD to implement Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS)</li> <li>• Observation and feedback to individual teachers</li> <li>• PD/mentoring to support new teachers</li> <li>• PD to implement CTE courses in which increased percentages of historically underserved students will enroll</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PD to implement Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), and/or Cambridge courses in the subjects for which NYSED has approved an alternate assessment, and in which increased percentages of historically underserved students will enroll</li> <li>• PD to implement virtual/blended AP, IB, and/or Cambridge (AICE or IGCSE) courses in the subjects for which NYSED has approved an alternative assessment, and in which increased percentages of historically underserved students will enroll</li> <li>• PD to implement Expanded Learning Time (ELT) opportunities that may include art, music, remediation and enrichment programs</li> <li>• Teacher team meetings in which teachers plan lessons and units that integrate the Common Core instructional shifts can be a form of professional development if teachers are supported in doing this work</li> </ul>
--	---

Note: A large and well-regarded federal study of PD programs (Yoon et al., 2007) found that 14 hours was the minimum amount of time that yielded statistically significant impact on student outcomes; i.e., 14 hours of PD on a particular topic or coherent set of topics, as a coherent PD experience, rather than 14 disconnected one-hour workshops. More than 14 hours of professional development showed a positive and significant effect on student achievement – the three studies that involved the least professional development (< 14 hours total) showed no statistically significant effects on student achievement. Teachers who received substantial PD – an average of 49 hours among nine studies – boosted their students’ achievement by about 21 percentile points.

m. Hours of professional development to improve leadership and governance

This may include the following types of professional development activities:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Regular meetings in which school leaders:             <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Review data and establish an instructional focus</li> <li>○ Evaluate curricular alignment with standards in all content areas</li> <li>○ Plan and adjust PD to support implementation of the school’s curricula</li> <li>○ Plan and adjust PD to improve instruction</li> </ul> </li> <li>• Regular meetings in which team leaders develop facilitation, data analysis, and planning skills</li> <li>• PD specifically designed for teacher leaders, principals, and assistant principals, including PD provided to principals at network meetings</li> <li>• Support for instructional coaches, teacher leaders, and others in conducting evidence-based observations using the Danielson rubric, providing coaching and feedback on instructional practice, and developing/assessing student learning objectives as part of teacher evaluation system</li> <li>• Support for school leaders supporting teachers with the new teacher evaluation and development system</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Support for highly effective teachers who mentor, coach, or provide professional development to student teachers, new teachers, or teachers rated as ineffective, developing, or effective in high-needs schools</li> <li>• PD for principals/ instructional supervisors regarding the implementation of CTE courses in which increased percentages of historically underserved students will enroll</li> <li>• PD for principals/instructional supervisors regarding the implementation of Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), and/or Cambridge courses in the subjects for which has approved an alternate assessment, and in which increased percentages of historically underserved students will enroll</li> <li>• PD for principals/instructional supervisors regarding the implementation of virtual/blended AP, IB, and/or Cambridge (AICE or IGCSE) courses in the subjects for which NYSED has approved an alternative assessment, and in which increased percentages of historically underserved students will enroll</li> </ul>

n. Hours of professional development in the implementation of high quality interim assessments and data-driven action

This may include the following types of professional development activities:

- Teacher team meetings in which teams review student work products and other data to adjust teaching practice (“inquiry team meetings”)
- Professional development on creating and using periodic assessments
- Training on information systems that track assessment outcome

II. Academic Indicators

o. ELA performance index

p. Math performance index

Due to changes in the State tests to align with the Common Core standards, changes are anticipated in schools’ Performance Indices. While the school’s PI from 2010-2011 is provided as baseline, targets for each year of the grant will be set once more current data on schools performances are available.

q. Student scoring “proficient” or higher on ELA assessment

r. Students scoring “proficient” or higher on Math assessment

Due to changes in the State tests to align with the Common Core standards, changes are anticipated in schools’ proficiency rates. While the percentage of students scoring “Proficient” or higher is provided from 2010-2011 as baseline, targets for each year of the grant will be set once more current data on schools performances are available.

s. Average SAT score

t. Students taking PSAT: The grade in which students take the PSATs varies from school to school; total takers from 2010-2011 is provided.

u. Students receiving Regents diploma with advanced designation

Section 2: Modifying Instruction: High Standards & Academic Intervention

High Standards

A1. Describe the assessments you will use to identify student learning trends, modify instruction, and ultimately increase student achievement.

Global Advocacy Prep educators will use a variety of formative and summative assessments to identify students' needs to plan and modify our instruction in an effort to intentionally increase student achievement. The following are some of the assessments we will use to identify student learning trends and track progress throughout the school year:

- ✚ Fountas & Pinnell Running Records ( three times per year to track their reading progress and determine what reading support will be needed to increase reading comprehension)
- ✚ Writing benchmarks (beginning and end of year to demonstrate growth)
- ✚ On-demand writing (will be used to continuously assess students' level of understanding of content and writing development growth)
- ✚ Conference sessions (all teachers across content areas will engage in daily conference sessions to consistently engage in discussions with students about their learning as well as to monitor strategies students are using to support their learning)
- ✚ Beginning of year transitional exams (to assess what skills and content knowledge students were able to transfer from the previous grade)
- ✚ Pre & post math unit assessments (to assess what students' learned throughout a unit of study as well as use the information to inform lesson and unit development)
- ✚ Math extended responses (to assess students' ability to articulate their understanding)
- ✚ Performance based assessments (to assess the students' mastery of a unit of study)
- ✚ Exit slips (will be used to assess understanding of the lesson's teaching point/ concept)
- ✚ NYS ELA and Math exams (this data will be used as a summative assessment; we will conduct an item analysis to assess areas of strengths and challenges and therefore select key standards of focus)
- ✚ NYSESLAT (this data will be used as summative assessment in an effort to gauge language proficiency)

The goal with administering and using the assessments above is to provide our educators with a variety of assessments that will help us capture a clear snapshot of our students' academic strengths and next steps. Teachers will engage in weekly Common Planning Time (CPT) sessions to discuss learning trends/patterns to therefore plan effective instruction guided by students' data. The information gathered will help us make decisions about instructional grouping as well as identify students in need of response to intervention. Small group instruction is one of the key components within our instructional model used to find commonalities and address needs of multiple students.

A2. Given the fact that students will enter your school at different levels, how will you challenge all of them to work to their maximum potential?

Global Advocacy Prep has a profound belief in the power of setting high expectations however the high expectations will be accompanied by support(s) to ensure students accomplish their goals. Therefore, the data will always be readily available to challenge and support students. In an effort to ensure we're on track toward helping students maximize their potential. We will:

- ↳ Analyze current data with students
- ↳ Set goals based on the data
- ↳ Develop an action plan
- ↳ Monitor/track student progress
- ↳ Revisit and revise as needed

Teacher teams will differentiate unit performance tasks to ensure we're meeting the needs of all learners. We will tier our tasks to include high level performance tasks so that students who are capable feel academically challenged.

A3. What types of school-level data do you believe are most important to focus on in the first year? What is your plan for collecting, reviewing and utilizing data at the whole-school level?

Our belief is that every interaction with our students serves as a form of assessment. However, during our first year, we know that the daily conference sessions across content areas will serve as a valuable source of information because it will provide "on the spot" pertinent data about students' development as learners as well as assess how students are transferring what they know across content areas. In addition to looking at student work to constantly revisit and modify their instructional plans to meet the students' academic needs, our educators will review and share their conference notes during Common Planning Time to think critically about student progress.

In addition, our first year focus will be on the CCLS performance tasks across content areas. We want to monitor and track our students' ability to meet the demands of the Common Core. We will place a major emphasis on this form assessment as it is important to understand what our students are able to do in comparison to what they need to be able to do. Understanding this data will allow us to make appropriate curriculum decisions geared toward impacting student achievement.

Academic Support & Interventions

B1. (a) When will you provide the support?

At Global Advocacy Prep we believe that the ICT model will serve as the foundation for our academic support plan. Our goal is to develop highly effective teachers who complement one another instructionally as well as possess the ability to create classroom environments that challenge and support student learning. Therefore our ICT model will serve as the first line of defense in closing the achievement gap.

In addition, in an effort to support English Language Learners from various cultural backgrounds we will implement an ESL self-contained model to support the language development of all students. Our ESL specialists and general and special education teachers will work collaboratively to meet the needs of our diverse student population. The goal is to tailor the curriculum and instruction to meet a wide range of students' learning needs. As our teachers work together, they will be able to address issues of oral proficiency connected with read-aloud(s) and vocabulary acquisition as well as fluency and comprehension strategies for deeper understanding.

However, while collaboration and classroom instruction will serve as the first line of defense at Global Advocacy Prep we also believe in providing support during and after the school day. With that said, our Excellence is the Only Option Program will serve as an added layer of academic support. The program will have a three-pronged focus to promote academic challenges and address the needs in ELA, math as well as support students' social-emotional development. Our goal is to utilize the youth development aspect to further increase the possibilities of academic success for all students. Embedded in our instructional practices will be the Academic and Personal Behaviors, which help set students up for long-term success. We will utilize research-based intervention materials to strengthen students writing and reading comprehension skills, in particular the necessary skills needed to lead them toward attaining and exceeding grade level expectations.

The social-emotional aspect will be supported through the Connect with Kids program videos. We will use the videos to promote discussions around common issues, read about it, and write information and argument pieces about the topics presented. We want to bridge the academic and social-emotional piece to have a lasting impact on student achievement.

B1. (b) What staff will be involved and how?

In collaboration, our administrative team, instructional support leaders, and our ESL, general and special educators will develop authentic data-driven curriculum. The Universal Design for Learning principles will guide the development of our curriculum allowing us to remove any barriers that may prevent our students from attaining independent mastery of content. The staff members involved in developing academic support and why are as follows:

- ↳ All teachers (we believe all teachers should have the capability of providing academic support in the classroom)
- ↳ Global Advocacy Intervention Specialist(s) (will work with the lowest third on a targeted action plan of academic improvement; the specialists will also support teachers)
- ↳ Administration (we believe administrators are instructional leaders and must play an avid role in contributing to the development of academic supports needed to impact student achievement)

B1. (c) What will students do during this time?

During the academic intervention sessions students will receive targeted instruction as per the data in either one-to-one or small group settings. There may be situations when students are pulled-out or will receive support via the push-in model in an effort to support a class lesson. During the academic intervention sessions, students will be active participants; they're expected to interact with the content as well as know how to monitor their own progress.

B1. (d) What is your system for giving students' feedback and setting academic goals?

Students will receive constant feedback during conference sessions as well as in the form of progress report meetings. Students will receive progress reports every six-eight weeks accompanied by a meeting with teachers to discuss progress made and to either revise or modify their action plan or set new goals. Our sole purpose for engaging in this process is to keep student constantly informed about their academic progress.

B1. (e) How will you keep track of the system's effectiveness for every student?

After goals have been set and documented, students and teachers will work on reaching long-term goals by following through with the implementation of an action plan. Students will be divided into cohorts and educators will meet with their cohort three times per year to track their progress toward meeting their goals. The formative assessments used throughout the units of study will help to determine the effectiveness of the system on student achievement.

B2.

At Global Advocacy Prep we have opted to support students with special needs and English Language Learners. Our entire school community will implement the same curriculum however we will use flexible programming to meet the needs of all scholars. We will use the IEP's present levels of performance to plan effect instruction conducive toward having an impact on student learning. We will then use our tracking and monitoring system to ensure students' are making progress.

B3.

Beyond compliance with state and city mandates Global Advocacy Prep believes the following excerpt highlights our belief system for promoting language proficiency progress across content areas among ELLs:

"First, at the organizational level, teachers must emphasize cooperative learning in untracked, heterogeneous classes with varying proficiency levels. Second, teaching must focus on developing students' critical thinking, embedding content in meaningful contexts for students, and creating opportunities for ELLs to produce oral and written English and to engage in intellectual conversation. Third, students' cultural backgrounds and experiences must be respected, and teachers will collaborate to develop ways to break down any alienation between the community we serve by embracing the culture and language of students, and by welcoming parents and community members into the school in innovative ways."

The following instructional strategies are embedded into our instructional model and are instrumental for ELL student success:

- ✎ small-group instruction
- ✎ cooperative learning
- ✎ guided, repeated, and choral reading
- ✎ building background knowledge
- ✎ reciprocal teaching
- ✎ scaffolding

At Global Advocacy Prep we understand the importance of creating an environment that is student centered and by embedding the strategies above ELL students and all students will receive the support needed to obtain academic and success.
